Nelson,2002-03-30 There is growing popular and scholarly interest in autobiography along with increasing regard for the achievements of African American writers The first reference of its kind this volume chronicles the autobiographical tradition in African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 66 African American authors who present autobiographical material in their works The volume profiles major figures such as Frederick Douglass Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Maya Angelou James Baldwin and Malcolm X along with many lesser known autobiographers who deserve greater attention While some are known primarily for their literary accomplishments others have gained acclaim for their diverse contributions to society The entries are written by expert contributors and provide authoritative information about their subjects Each begins with a concise biography which summarizes the life and achievements of the autobiographer This is followed by a discussion of major autobiographical works and themes along with an overview of the autobiographer s critical reception The entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and a selected general bibliography concludes the volume Together the entries provide a detailed portrait of the African American autobiographical tradition from the 18th century to the present Volume 14: Kierkegaard's Influence on Social-Political Thought Jon Stewart,2016-12-05 While scholars have long recognized Kierkegaard s important contributions to fields such as ethics aesthetics philosophy of religion philosophical psychology and hermeneutics it was usually thought that he had nothing meaningful to say about society or politics Kierkegaard has been traditionally characterized as a Christian writer who placed supreme importance on the inward religious life of each individual believer His radical view seemed to many to undermine any meaningful conception of the community society or the state In recent years however scholars have begun to correct this image of Kierkegaard as an apolitical thinker The present volume attempts to document the use of Kierkegaard by later thinkers in the context of social political thought It shows how his ideas have been employed by very different kinds of writers and activists with very different political goals and agendas Many of the articles show that although Kierkegaard has been criticized for his reactionary views on some social and political questions he has been appropriated as a source of insight and inspiration by a number of later thinkers with very progressive indeed visionary political views

,1888 My Father's Shadow David L. Dudley,2016-11-11 In My Father's Shadow David L Dudley explores a line of African American men's autobiographies starting with Frederick Douglass and moving on through Booker T Washington W E B Du Bois Richard Wright James Baldwin Eldridge Cleaver and Malcolm X In life these writers did not enjoy normal relationships with their fathers who were all unknown absent or abusive Damaged and damaging father son relationships in childhood Dudley contends spill over into adult personal and artistic relationships clouding and complicating the already complex issue of identity that lies at the core of any autobiographical endeavor Dudley identifies a kind of inter generational Oedipus conflict each rising autobiographer seeks through his text to displace his predecessor in order to gain imaginative space for himself as well as a position of authority in the black and sometimes white community As each writer strives to come to terms with the powerful father figure in the black male autobiographical tradition he also wrestles with the larger issue of his own identity in relation to the literary and cultural traditions in which he lives and writes Dudley also traces the triumph of these writers as they establish their own identity in the face of great personal and societal odds My Father's Shadow is an important contribution to the study of African American literature history politics and culture It will also serve as an examination of the experiences of seven writers as they struggle with what it means to be a black man and a black writer in America cases these works limit their scope to a single period the nineteenth century the Spanish Civil War a movement predominantly Romanticism or authors known for their interest in Spain Irving Hemingway The result is often a lack of continuum or the exclusion of such authors as Saul Bellow William Gaddis or Richard Wright Within American literature itself The Last Good Land contains revisions of traditional interpretations of certain writers including Hemingway The variety of authors treated both in respect to ethnicity and gender guarantees a varied and global view of Spanish culture by American writers
