The Parisian Prowler:

The Parisian Prowler Charles Baudelaire, 1989 Brief essays offer a variety of views of 1850s Paris and share observations on everyday modern life Baudelaire's Prose Poems Edward K. Kaplan, 2009-01-01 Baudelaire's Prose Poems is the first full length integral study of the fifty prose poems Baudelaire wrote between 1857 and his death in 1867 collected posthumously under the title Le Spleen de Paris Edward Kaplan resurrects this neglected masterpiece by defining the structure and meaning of the entire collection which Kaplan himself has translated as The Parisian Prowler Engaging in a dialogue with deconstructionists whose critical methods often obscure the meaning of the whole Kaplan rejects the view of prose poems as a random assemblage of melodic rhapsodies Instead he sees a coherent ensemble of fables of modern life that join lyricism and critical self awareness Kaplan defines three dimensions of experience that inform The Parisian Prowler from beginning to end the esthetic includes art ideal beauty and especially the intense immediacy of sensations fantasy and dream the ethical includes principles of right and wrong relations between intimates or between individuals and the community and the religious not to be confused with church or dogma points to the province of ultimate reality whether it be God or an absolute standard of truth justice and meaning These dimensions are explored by a narrator a complex highly self conscious writer whose passion for pure Beauty continually frustrates his yearning for affection He begins his tour through 1850s Paris alienated from reality becomes aggravated by conflicts between his ethical and esthetic drives to the point of despair and ends by expressing loyal friendship Analyzing the fables in relation to one another in pairs or groups Kaplan demonstrates how later pieces intermingle or even confuse the narrator's esthetic and ethical drives and how the most advanced theoretical fables through ironic puns on their form further undermine this simplistic dualism Baudelaire's fables of modern life radically challenge us to examine our presuppositions Kaplan argues Though rarely didactic the narrator's Socratic irony engages readers in a volatile dialogue provoking them to form their own judgments He often betrays self destructive anger rebelling against injustice or stupidity or against women who might love him At times he insults our complacency and self deception with vicious glee at other times he recognizes his own frailty nurturing a sense of fellowship with the oppressed Seeking both to analyze experience objectively and to sympathize with isolated individuals like himself Baudelaire's narrator joins criticism and poetry in a voyage of self discovery finally accepting experience as impure and mixed Kaplan contends that the prose poems constitute a genre parallel to the poems Baudelaire added to the 1861 edition of Les Fleurs du Mal both of which illustrate fundamental principles of the theory of modernity he developed in his essays on art The self reflective fables in The Parisian Prowler depicting a way of thinking beyond ideologies clarify Baudelaire's development as poet critic and thinker The Cambridge Companion to Baudelaire Rosemary Lloyd, 2005 Charles Baudelaire's place among the great poets of the Western world is undisputed and his influence on the development of poetry since his lifetime has been enormous In this Companion essays by outstanding scholars illuminate Baudelaire's writing both for the lay reader and for specialists In addition to a survey of his life and a study of his social context the volume includes essays on his verse and prose analyzing the extraordinary power and effectiveness of his language and style his exploration of intoxicants like wine and opium and his art and literary criticism The volume also discusses the difficulties successes and failures of translating his poetry and his continuing power to move his readers Featuring a guide to further reading and a chronology this Companion provides students and scholars of Baudelaire and of nineteenth century French and European literature with a comprehensive and stimulating overview of this extraordinary poet Reading Baudelaire's Le Spleen de Paris and the Nineteenth-Century Prose Poem Seth Whidden,2022-06-02 Through its readings of Charles Baudelaire s collection Le Spleen de Paris and other prose poems from the nineteenth century this book considers the practice of reading prose poetry and how it might be different from reading poetry in verse Among the numerous factors that helped shape the nascent modernity in Baudelaire s poetic prose are the poems themes forms linguistic qualities and modes The contradictions identifiable at the level of prose poetry s discourse are similarly perceptible in other aspects of Baudelaire s poetic language beyond the discursive in the poems formal considerations which retain recognisable traces of verse despite their prose presentation and with respect to both poetic form and thematics in the sights and sounds that contribute to their poetyicity With a focus on what makes prose texts poetic this study sheds light on Baudelaire the practitioner of the prose poem as he navigated and complicated the boundaries between verse prose and poetry Rather than rejecting those categories Baudelaire forges a poetic space in which the notions of poetry and prose are recast juxtaposed in a delicate balance in a textual space they manage to share This coexistence of poetry and prose previously thought of as incompatible is the underlying tension and framework that contributes importantly to the modernity of his prose poetry In turn this new mode of poetry calls for new modes of reading poetry and new ways of engaging with a text Ethics and Aesthetics in European Modernist Literature David Ellison,2001-09-27 David Ellison s book is an investigation into the historical origins and textual practice of European literary Modernism Ellison s study traces the origins of Modernism to the emergence of early German Romanticism from the philosophy of Immanuel Kant and emphasizes how the passage from Romanticism to Modernism can be followed in the gradual transition from the sublime to the uncanny Arguing that what we call High Modernism cannot be reduced to a religion of beauty an experimentation with narrative form or even a reflection on time and consciousness Ellison demonstrates that Modernist textuality is characterized by the intersection overlapping and crossing of aesthetic and ethical issues Beauty and morality relate to each other as antagonists struggling for dominance within the related fields of philosophy and theory on the one hand Kant Kierkegaard Nietzsche Freud and imaginative literature on the other Baudelaire Proust Gide Conrad Woolf Kafka Paris Spleen, and La Fanfarlo Charles Baudelaire,2008-09-15 Paris Spleen a diverse collection of fifty prose poems is provided here in a clear engaging and accurate translation that conveys the lyricism and nuance of the original French text Also included is a translation of Baudelaire s early novella La Fanfarlo which alongside

Paris Spleen sheds light on the development of Baudelaire's work over time. Raymond N MacKenzie's introductory essay discusses Baudelaire's life and the literary climate in which he lived and worked. Focusing on the theory of the prose poem, MacKenzie suggests that Baudelaire turned to this form for both aesthetic and ethical reasons and because the form allowed him to explore more fully the complexities of the modern urban human condition. By turns comic, somber, satiric and self-questioning, Paris Spleen is one of the nineteenth century's richest masterpieces.

The Cambridge Companion to the City in Literature Kevin R. McNamara, 2014-10-06. From the myths and legends that fashioned the identities of ancient city states to the diversity of literary performance in contemporary cities around the world, literature and the city are inseparably entwined. The international team of scholars in this volume offers a comprehensive, accessible survey of the literary city, exploring the myriad cities that authors create and the genres in which cities appear. Early chapters consider the literary legacies of historical and symbolic cities from antiquity to the early modern period. Subsequent chapters consider the importance of literature to the rise of the urban public sphere, the affective experience of city life, the interplay of the urban landscape and memory, the form of the literary city and its responsiveness to social, cultural and technological change, dystopian, nocturnal, pastoral and sublime cities, cities shaped by colonialism and postcolonialism, and the cities of economic, sexual, cultural and linguistic outsiders.

A Neuroarthistory of The Painters of Modern Life Lauren S. Weingarden, 2025-12-23. Using a transdisciplinary method combining art history, literary studies and neuroaesthetics, this book examines the modern urban experience of nineteenth century Paris through language and images of fragmentation and transformation. The volume includes new empirical research conducted in collaboration with neuropsychologists, which tracks present day viewers' physical and psychological responses to nineteenth century painting and photography, thus providing data to model an experiential aesthetic for Baudelairean modernity. Weingarden reframes our understanding of Haussmannization, the demolition and rebuilding of the city into a modern metropolis, as witnessed by nineteenth century Parisians, while also shedding new light on writers' responses, particularly those of Charles Baudelaire and of visual artists like Édouard Manet, who contemplated and theorized this modernity and its impact. Using a unique word and image methodology, the author illustrates the development of ironic parody as a pictorial device that represents the rupture, fragmentation and transmutation experienced by the artists and their viewers, revealing how art historians can utilize nineteenth century neuropsychological practices and current neuroscience methods to reconstruct the lived embodied experiences of nineteenth century Paris. This book will be of interest to students and scholars working in art history, modern art, urban studies and neuropsychology.
