The Path to Power Robert A. Caro, 2019-07-04 The greatest biography of our era Essential reading for those who want to comprehend power and politics The Times Robert A Caro's legendary multi award winning biography of US President Lyndon Johnson is a uniquely riveting and revelatory account of power political genius and the shaping of twentieth century America This first instalment tells of the rise to national power of a desperately poor young man from the Texas Hill Country revealing in extraordinary detail the genesis of the almost superhuman drive energy and ambition that set LBJ apart It charts his boyhood through the years of the Depression to his debut as a Congressman his heartbreaking defeat in his first race for the Senate and his attainment nonetheless at the age of thirty one of the power for which he hungered Women,

Educational Policy-Making and Administration in England Joyce Goodman, Sylvia Harrop, 2002-11-01 The role of women in policy making has been largely neglected in conventional social and political histories This book opens up this field of study taking the example of women in education as its focus It examines the work attitudes actions and philosophies of women who played a part in policy making and administration in education in England over two centuries looking at women engaged at every level from the local school to the state Women Educational Policy Making and Administration in England traces women's involvement in the establishment and management of schools and teacher training the foundation of the school boards women's representation on educational commissions and their rising professional profile in such roles as school inspector or minister of education These activities highlight vital questions of gender class power and authority and illuminate the increasingly diverse and prominent spectrum of political activity in which women have participated Offering a new perspective on the professional and political role of women this book represents essential reading for anybody with an interest in gender studies or the social and political history of England in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Shame and Humiliation Blema S. Steinberg, 1996-04-16 Steinberg focuses on the narcissistic personality identifying it as intensely self involved and preoccupied with success and recognition as a substitute for parental love She asserts that narcissistic leaders are most likely to use force when they fear being humiliated for failing to act and when they need to restore their diminished sense of self worth Providing case studies of Johnson Nixon and Eisenhower Steinberg describes the childhood maturation and career of each president documenting key personality attributes and then discusses each one's Vietnam policy in light of these traits She contends that Johnson authorized the bombing of Vietnam in part because he feared the humiliation that would come from inaction and that Nixon escalated US intervention in Cambodia in part because of his low sense of self esteem Steinberg contrasts these two presidents with Eisenhower who was psychologically secure and was therefore able to carry out a careful and thoughtful analysis of the problem he faced in Indochina Shame and Humiliation reveals how personality traits affect our perception of reality and offers a powerful demonstration of the impact of psychodynamics on presidential decision making McNamara at War William Taubman, Philip Taubman, 2025-09-23 A
