 INTRODUCTORY The question is sometimes asked why a state like Maine so sparsely settled poor weak in all external aids can send forth such throngs of masterful men who east and west step to the front to lead direct and do We who were brought up among pine trees and granite know the secret of their success It comes not wholly by taking thought it is in the blood Here are stories of men the kind we have yet a plenty who die unknown and unnoticed and every tale is a true one not the chance report of strangers the gleanings of recent acquaintance the aftermath of hearsay the enlargements of a fading tradition but the tales of men who tended me in babyhood who crooned to me old slumber songs who brought me gifts from the woods who wrought me little keepsakes or amused my childish hours stories which having gathered them from this one and that one who saw the deed I have bound into a garland to lay upon their graves Such tales are numberless choice becomes invidious unless rigidly limited and therefore since the old West Branch Drive is no more I have chosen solely among its members and have strung these tales like beads of remembrance upon one thread of which we who love it never tire the River These are stories told with little art In the long run the books that lie closest to the facts have the advantage It is lovely to be beautiful but it is essential to be true The events are actual occurrences the names real names the places any one may see at any time Yet each story is not merely personal and solitary but illustrates typically some trait of the whole class Their virtues are not magnified their faults are not denied in black and white for good or evil they stand here as
