The Pediatric Spine I Development And The Dysraphic State:

The Pediatric Spine I Anthony J. Raimondi, Maurice Choux, Concezio Di Rocco, 2012-12-06 It is estimated that the functionally significant body of knowledge for a given medical specialty changes radically every 8 years New specialties and sub specialization are occurring at approximately an equal rate Historically established journals have not been able either to absorb this increase in publishable material or to extend their readership to the new specialists International and national meetings symposia and seminars workshops and newsletters successfully bring to the attention of physicians within developing specialties what is occurring but generally only in demonstration form without providing historical perspective pathoanatomical correlates or extensive discussion Page and time limitations oblige the authors to present only the essence of their material Pediatric neurosurgery is an example of a specialty that has developed during the past 15 years Over this period neurosurgeons have obtained special training in pediatric neurosurgery and then dedicated themselves primarily to its practice Centers Chairs and educational programs have been established as groups of neurosurgeons in different countries throughout the world organized themselves respectively into national and international societies for pediatric neurosurgery These events were both preceded and followed by specialized courses national and international journals and ever increasing clinical and investigative studies into all aspects of surgically treatable diseases of the child's nervous system

The Growing Spine Behrooz A. Akbarnia, Muharrem Yazici, George H. Thompson, 2015-11-02 The second edition of The Growing Spine has been extensively revised to cover recent advances in knowledge and management The book is intended as a comprehensive one stop reference for specialists and health professionals who care for young children with spinal deformities In addition it will effectively help to standardize the care of these patients Depending on the etiology children with spinal deformities are often cared for by multiple specialists including pediatricians pediatric orthopaedists or orthopaedic spine surgeons neurologists pediatric surgeons pediatric neurosurgeons oncologists and pulmonologists The multidisciplinary nature of care is reflected in The Growing Spine which will be of value for all involved practitioners rather than just orthopaedic specialists It will also be an ideal reference for nurses physical therapists and healthcare professionals in training who are usually unfamiliar with spinal deformities in children The Pediatric Spine III Anthony J.

Bifida M. Memet Özek, Giuseppe Cinalli, Virginia Maixner, 2008-08-29 By C Sainte Rose As we stand at the dawn of the 21st century one may ponder the rationale of writing a book on spina bifida Once commonplace in European countries prior to the era of ultrasonography this disease became increasingly rare in developed countries as a result of improvements in antenatal diagnosis to the point that we believed it to be disappearing Knowledge of spina bifida and of its treatment once so richly diffused 30 years ago began to fade Young neurosurgeons who had never seen such a presentation were hesitant and did not understand the protean clinical signs of these patients presenting to the emergency department or outpatient clinics This situation however did not last for long As a consequence of the political and economic events of the final years of the 20th century the advent of globalization and the significant desire for immigration we realised that spina bifida had not disappeared at all in the rest of the world Migration was and is bringing it back to our doorstep to our everyday clinical and surgical practice It is important therefore not to lose the knowledge gained by our masters to try and assemble it in one place in order to understand the disease from its inception in utero through until adulthood and the reproductive age British Journal of Neurosurgery, 1989 The Pediatric Spine Anthony J. Raimondi, Maurice Choux, Concezio Di Rocco, 1989 The Pediatric Spine David S. Bradford, Robert N. Hensinger, 1985 Acta neurologica Belgica, 1970 Neuroimaging Robert A.
