Chazan,2019-02-28 The paths of African states have diverged markedly since the termination of colonial rule Nevertheless Ghana the first African state to achieve independence epitomizes both the political gyrations and the overall stagnation common to many other countries on the continent This work concentrates on the 1969 1982 period in Ghana focusing on two interrelated facets of African politics the decline of state power and authority and adjustments to political recession The author traces the dual patterns of diminution of the state and the adaptation of autonomous coping mechanisms in the separate spheres of political leadership political structures and institutions ideology and political economy The dynamic of state society interactions is then treated in terms of the rhythm of dissent conflict and disengagement Dr Chazan provides a comprehensive study of Ghanaian politics from the 1970s to the present By systematically analyzing the process of political decline and regeneration she highlights similar processes apparent elsewhere in Africa The stress on the subtleties and direction of political change has important implications for policymakers and policy analysts alike No Farewell To Arms? Claude Welch,2019-04-11 In many contemporary nations particularly in Africa Asia and Latin America the armed forces play a major role in governing Historical economic and sociological factors have contributed to the political prominence of the military in developing countries Nevertheless in the 1980s several states in Latin America restored civilian rule followi

Guarding the Guardians Mathurin C. Hounnikpo,2016-04-22 The relationship between civil society and the armed forces is an essential part of any polity democratic or otherwise because a military force is after all a universal feature of social systems Despite significant progress moving towards democracy among some African countries in the past decade all too many African militaries have yet to accept core democratic principles regulating civilian authority over the military This book explores the theory of civil military relations and moves on to review the intrusion of the armed forces in African politics by looking first into the organization and role of the army in pre colonial and colonial eras before examining contemporary armies and their impact on society Furthermore it revisits the various explanations of military takeovers in Africa and disentangles the notion of the military as the modernizing force Whether as a revolutionary force as a stabilizing force or as a modernizing force the military has often been perceived as the only organized and disciplined group with the necessary skills to uplift newly independent nations The performance of Africa s military governments since independence however has soundly disproven this thesis As such this study conveys the necessity of new civil military relations in Africa and calls not just for civilian control of the military but rather a democratic oversight of the security forces in Africa Rural Africa

,1984 The Military in African Politics Johns Hopkins University. School of Advanced International Studies,1987-05-15 The concern of this book is with military rulers as political actors in contemporary Africa Much of Africa has been under military rule during the quarter century since a majority of the countries attained their political independence Yet studies of military rule have focused on when and how to predict the occurrence of military rule and on distinguishing between military and civilian rule The concern of the contributors to this volume by contrast is the political behavior of officers once in power how they have ruled what has been the significance of military rule on the character of political systems in the affected countries and how problems of regime succession have been addressed by military rulers Preface Determinants of Democratization in Africa Mathurin C. Hounnikpo, 2001-11-14 Contrary to conventional wisdom on democratic transition in Africa civil society alone does not trigger democratization on the continent Determinants of Democratization in Africa fills an important theoretical gap by shedding light on the key variables to democratic transitions in Africa Mathurin C Hounnikpo demonstrates that democratic renewal in Africa depends more on the Military incumbent leaders willingness for change and foreign influence Hounnikpo shows through a study of Benin and Togo that civil society is necessary but not sufficient for democratization on the continent Political Leaders of Contemporary Africa South of the Sahara Harvey Glickman, 1992-08-24 This is the first biographical dictionary of major political leaders in sub Saharan Africa since 1945 leaders who have made important and often determinative contributions to politics and government in their countries and in the region as a whole Editor Harvey Glickman has brought together an international team of experts to profile fifty three important heads of state theorists party leaders and politicians from a representative group of African countries An invaluable reference for libraries of all kinds this dictionary will be useful to advanced scholars and neophytes alike in evaluating African leadership national political systems and contemporary world history in general Glickman s introduction explains the criteria used for selecting the figures profiled and then describes what is involved in being a political leader in Africa in the late colonial period in early independence and now in the fourth decade of independence as new forms of government and leadership appear in Africa Glickman remarks on the lack of women in high ranks of African politics and explores reasons for their notable absence Each profile examines the role of the leader in history the personal events of birth tribal affiliation education early career and rise to political power Figures chosen represent a variety of types including founding fathers radical opposition party leaders conservatives socialists oppressive dictators and philosophical theorists Each entry has a bibliography of works by and about the leader A chronology lists events in sub Saharan politics from 1892 to 1991 A list of important figures by country and a short bibliography of general works on political leadership and change in Africa complete the volume Debating the African Condition Alamin M. Mazrui, Alamin Mazrui, Willy Mutunga, 2004 Is Ali Mazrui a visionary or a vacuous intellectual Is he reactionary revolutionary or essentially a radical pragmatist These questions were the focus of a forum intended to interrogate Ali Mazrui s contributions over the last forty years or so of his career as an academic The questions themselves capture the magnitude of the polarisation among different sections of Mazrui s audiences generated by his often provocative propositions and prescriptions on a wide range of issues from the condition of the black woman to the destiny of the black race A Bibliography for the Study of African Politics, 1983 Africana Journal, 1981 The Mazruiana Collection, 1999 Sustainable Development in Africa Valentine Udoh James, 1999 To learn more about Rowman Littlefield titles please visit us at www.rowmanlittlefield.com The State and
