

The Black Atlantic

Alan Rice

The Black Atlantic:

The Black Atlantic Paul Gilroy, 1993 An account of the location of black intellectuals in the modern world following the end of racial slavery The lives and writings of key African Americans such as Martin Delany W E B Dubois Frederick Douglass and Richard Wright are examined in the light of their experiences in Europe and Africa

Re-membering the Black Atlantic Lars Eckstein, 2006 The Atlantic slave trade continues to haunt the cultural memories of Africa Europe and the Americas There is a prevailing desire to forget While victims of the African diaspora tried to flee the sites of trauma enlightened Westerners preferred to be oblivious to the discomfiting complicity between their enlightenment and chattel slavery Recently however fiction writers have ventured to re member the Black Atlantic This book is concerned with how literature performs as memory It sets out to chart systematically the ways in which literature and memory intersect and offers readings of three seminal Black Atlantic novels

New Perspectives on the Black Atlantic Bénédicte Ledent, Pilar Cuder Domínguez, 2012 This collection of essays attempts to expand the notion of the Black Atlantic beyond its original racial geographical linguistic and cultural borders while acknowledging its remarkable ability to disturb established historical truths and to go beyond traditional dichotomies thereby providing an essential tool for cross cultural understanding It is divided into four sections each of them dealing with a different approach to the question of the Black Atlantic Definitions touches on the various limitations of Gilroy's original concept Readings focuses on how the Black Atlantic can be productively used in readings of certain literary texts Practices shifts towards the practical applications of the concept in order to explore the impact it has had on academic disciplines and examine to what extent it may have altered their epistemology and working procedures Finally Dialogues engages with the Black Atlantic from the perspectives of two creative writers whose work includes transatlantic themes and characters

Literature and Culture in the Black Atlantic K. Campbell, 2016-04-30 This book extends our understanding of the black Atlantic a term coined by Paul Gilroy to describe the political cultural and creative interrelations among blacks living in Africa the Americas and Europe This study focuses on pre colonial English literary constructions and their effects on post Independence Caribbean literature

Radical Narratives of the Black Atlantic Alan Rice, 2003-04-30 Broad based survey of trans Atlantic black culture Newest book in the popular Black Atlantic series Radical Narratives of the Black Atlantic is a multi faceted and interdisciplinary take on trans Atlantic black culture Alan Rice engages fully with Paul Gilroy's paradigm of the Black Atlantic through examination of a broad array of cultural genres including music dance folklore and oral literature fine art material culture film and literature The aspects of black culture under discussion range from black British gravesites to sea shanties from the novels of Toni Morrison to the paintings of the Zanzibar born black British artist Lubaina Himid and from King Kong to the travels of Frederick Douglass and Paul Robeson The book places such figures as the African American traveller and Barbary slave narrator Robert Adams and the West Indian slave narrator Mary Prince in a Black Atlantic context that explicates them fully A chapter on the Titanic disaster shows how diasporan Africans composed oral poems about the disaster to criticise the discriminatory practices of its owners and racial imperialism Overall the book argues for the crucial importance of Black Atlantic cultures in the formation of our modern world Moreover it argues that looking at Black culture and history through a national lens is distorting and reductive

Archives of the Black Atlantic Wendy W. Walters, 2013-09-02 Many African diasporic novelists and poets allude to or cite archival documents in their writings foregrounding the elements of archival research and data in their literary texts and revising the material remnants of the archive This book reads black historical novels and poetry in an interdisciplinary context to examine the multiple archives that have produced our historical consciousness In the history of African diaspora literature black writers and intellectuals have led the way for an analysis of the archive querying dominant archives and revising the ways black people have been represented in the legal and hegemonic discourses of the west Their work in genres as diverse as autobiography essay bibliography poetry and the novel attests to the centrality of this critique in black intellectual culture Through literary engagement with the archives of the slave trader colonizer and courtroom creative writers teach us to read the archives of history anew probing between the documents for stories left untold questions left unanswered and freedoms enacted against all odds Opening new perspectives on Atlantic history and culture Walters generates a dialogue between what was and what might have been Ultimately Walters argues that references to archival documents in black historical literature introduce a new methodology for studying both the archive and literature itself engaging in a transnational and interdisciplinary reading that exposes the instability of the archive's truth claim and highlights rebellious possibility

Fictions of the Black Atlantic in American Foundational Literature Gesa Mackenthun, 2004-08-02 This book is a significant contribution to existing research on the themes of race and slavery in the founding literature of the United States It extends the boundaries of existing research by locating race and slavery within a transnational and oceanic framework The author applies critical concepts developed within postcolonial theory to American texts written between the national emergence of the United States and the Civil War in order to uncover metaphors of the colonial and imperial unconscious in America's foundational writing The book analyses the writings of canonized authors such as Charles Brockden Brown James Fenimore Cooper Edgar Allan Poe and Herman Melville alongside those of lesser known writers like Olaudah Equiano Royall Tyler Frederick Douglass Martin Delany and Maxwell Philip and situates them within the colonial and postcolonial context of the slave based economic system of the Black Atlantic While placing the transatlantic slave trade on the map of American Studies and viewing it in conjunction with American imperial ambitions in the Pacific Fictions of the Black Atlantic in American Foundational Literature also adds a historical dimension to present discussions about the ambivalence of postcoloniality

Beyond the Black Atlantic Roberto Conduru, 2020-06-10 A groundswell of complex events around the globe have made discussion surrounding the Western Eurocentric often prejudiced notion of Blackness even more relevant and controversial in recent years Social conflicts in Western societies that were long thought to have been overcome such as those in the United States for example have sparked new awareness among members of the Black community and simultaneously brought the idea of a global polyphonic Black culture the Black Atlantic to the fore Coined in the year 1993 by British sociologist Paul Gilroy his book The Black Atlantic Modernity and Double Consciousness is considered a key work of contemporary research on the culture and politics of the African diaspora in the western world 00Black culture is community building questions colonial amnesia and calls for a radical rethinking of our Western societies All too often Black artists have been regarded one dimensionally as representatives of their community a factor that has contributed to their marginalization This publication aims to show a range of artistic positions that address issues relevant to society including the complexity of identities the ambivalence of visibility and transparency and the repression of history in educational settings to name just a few Though the works can be considered against the historical background of the Black Atlantic they also point far beyond it in terms of both form and content 00Exhibition Kunstverein Hannover Germany 15 02 01 06 2020

Redefining the Black Atlantic: Modernity and Double Consciousness in Andrea Levy's The Long Song Annabelle Elizabeth Haynes, 2017 Paul Gilroy's The Black Atlantic Modernity and Double Consciousness 1993 positions the African diaspora created by transatlantic slavery as a counter culture to modernity and in a permanently irreconcilable relationship with Western nationalisms However Andrea Levy's liberatory narrative The Long Song 2010 undermines Gilroy's black Atlantic claims The Long Song offers a redefinition of modernity that centers the experiences of previously enslaved 19th century women whose commodification predicts the spread of global capitalism Rather than representing the African diaspora as a counter culture to modernity Levy's novel reveals the experience of transatlantic slavery as foundational to modernity itself Furthermore Levy's mulatto protagonist portends the rise of creole nationalism in the Caribbean counteracting Gilroy's claim that double consciousness is a relationship between race and nationalism thus reorienting double consciousness as a conflict between black positionality and global white supremacy The Long Song also undermines Gilroy's rejection of nationalism by foregrounding narrative plurality the existence of contesting narratives within all nationalisms Ultimately The Long Song dismisses Gilroy's black Atlantic offering a more robust and useful definition of the Black Atlantic

Beyond the Black Atlantic Sergey Harutoonian, Angela Lautenbach, 2020 A groundswell of complex events around the globe have made discussion surrounding the Western Eurocentric often prejudiced notion of Blackness even more relevant and controversial in recent years Social conflicts in Western societies that were long thought to have been overcome such as those in the United States for example have sparked new awareness among members of the Black community and simultaneously brought the idea of a global polyphonic Black culture the Black Atlantic to the fore Coined in the year 1993 by British sociologist Paul Gilroy his book The Black Atlantic Modernity and Double Consciousness is considered a key work of contemporary research on the culture and politics of the African diaspora in the western world Black culture is community building questions colonial amnesia and calls for a radical rethinking of our

Western societies All too often Black artists have been regarded one dimensionally as representatives of their community a factor that has contributed to their marginalization This publication aims to show a range of artistic positions that address issues relevant to society including the complexity of identities the ambivalence of visibility and transparency and the repression of history in educational settings to name just a few Though the works can be considered against the historical background of the Black Atlantic they also point far beyond it in terms of both form and content Exhibition Kunstverein Hannover Germany 15 02 01 06 2020 Beyond the Black Atlantic Walter Goebel, Saskia Schabio, 2006-07-29 Debates about the Black Atlantic have alerted us to an experience of modernization that diverges from the dominant Western narratives of globalization and technological progress This outstanding volume expands the concept of the Black Atlantic by reaching beyond the usual African American focus of the field presenting fresh perspectives on postcolonial experiences of technology and modernization A team of renowned contributors come together in this volume in order to redefine and expand ideas of Black Atlantic challenge unified concepts of modernization from a postcolonial perspective question fashionable concepts of the transnational by returning to the local and the national offer new approaches to cross cultural mechanisms of exchange explore utopian uses of technology in the postcolonial sphere Exploring a variety of national diasporan and transnational counternarratives to Western modernization Beyond the Black Atlantic makes a valuable contribution to the fields of postcolonial literary and cultural studies Black Atlantic, 2023-11-21 An important illustrated history of the relationship between Cambridge and the Black Atlantic written by a range of contributors including academics curators artists and activists Between 1400 and 1900 European powers not least Britain colonised the Americas and transported over 12.5 million people from sub Saharan Africa as slaves The contested space formed by the interactions of multiple people and cultures both Black and white we now call the Black Atlantic Cambridge and Cambridgeshire played a key role in this international narrative a story of commerce profit and colonialism of opinion forming and of struggle Through the lens of historic artworks artefacts and natural history specimens drawn from the world class holdings of Cambridge University's museums colleges and libraries as well as key national and international museums this book and the exhibition it accompanies analyse the rise and growth of enslavement the profits made by Dutch and British traders and plantation owners the power of images the knowledge produced by enslaved people histories of resistance movements and the consequences of these events today Works by contemporary makers challenge long held assumptions address erasures and create alternative narratives of repair freedom and justice The Black Atlantic Paul Gilroy, 1999 Thinking While Black: Translating the Politics and Popular Culture of a Rebel Generation Daniel McNeil, 2022-09-27 This uniquely interdisciplinary study of Black cultural critics Armond White and Paul Gilroy spans continents and decades of rebellion and revolution Drawing on an eclectic mix of archival research politics film theory and pop culture Daniel McNeil examines two of the most celebrated and controversial Black thinkers working today Thinking While Black takes us on a transatlantic journey through the radical movements that rocked against racism in 1970s Detroit and Birmingham the rhythms of everyday life in 1980s London and New York and the hype and hostility generated by Oscar winning films like 12 Years a Slave The lives and careers of White and Gilroy along with creative contemporaries of the post civil rights era such as Bob Marley Toni Morrison Stuart Hall and Pauline Kael should matter to anyone who craves deeper and fresher thinking about cultural industries racism nationalism belonging and identity Always Elsewhere Alasdair Pettinger,1998 Including material from the 18th century to the present day this book is an international collection of travel writings by black authors from narratives of the middle passage to the observations of the modern tourist The Companion to African Literatures G. Lindsay,John Wood Sweet,2014 In this volume leading historians reflect on the recent biographical turn in studies of slavery and the modern African diaspora This collection presents vivid glimpses into the lives of remarkable enslaved and formerly enslaved people who moved struggled and endured in the eighteenth and nineteenth century Atlantic world Encyclopedia of Black Studies Molefi Kete Asante,Ama Mazama,2005 In the 1960s Black Studies emerged as both an academic field and a radical new ideological paradigm Editors Molefi Kete Asante and Ama Mazama Black Studies Temple U both influential and renowned scholars have compiled an encyclopedia for students high school and beyond and general readers It presents analysis of key individuals events a Creating Memorials, Building Identities Alan J. Rice,2010-01-01 The book is not restricted by geographical strictures like many studies but includes work on European Caribbean African and North American examples of memorialisation The book ranges across chronologies including case studies on all centuries from the 18th to the 21st and often mixing chronologies within the case studies themselves The book is determinedly interdisciplinary ranging across music visual arts literature museum and film studies allowing for a dynamic range of examples to be brought forward and juxtaposed making it a more interesting study than many heretofore discussions of memorialisation It uses the latest theories in the study of memory by black Atlantic and French philosophers and melds them with the authors own development of a theory of guerrilla memorialisation which is followed through a number of the case studies It follows on from the work of Marcus Wood and Paul Gilroy to discuss the complex issue of representation and the black body in the wake of the horrors of the Transatlantic slave trade using the work of contemporary artists to analyse the limits and potentialities of representation in the wake of catastrophe The Human Tradition in the Black Atlantic, 1500-2000 Beatriz Gallotti

Mamigonian, Karen Racine, 2010 Like snapshots of everyday life in the past the compelling biographies in this book document the making of the Black Atlantic world since the sixteenth century from the point of view of those who were part of it Centering on the diaspora caused by the forced migration of Africans to Europe and across the Atlantic to the Americas the chapters explore the slave trade enslavement resistance adaptation cultural transformations and the quest for citizenship rights The variety of experiences constraints and choices depicted in the book and their changes across time and space defy the idea of a unified black experience At the same time it is clear that in the twentieth century black identity unified people of African descent who along with other minority groups struggled against colonialism and racism and presented alternatives to a version of modernity that excluded and alienated them Drawing on a rich array of little known documents the contributors reconstruct the lives and times of some well known characters along with ordinary people who rarely left written records and would otherwise have remained anonymous and unknown Contributions by Aaron P Althouse Alan Bloom Marcus J M de Carvalho Aisnara Perera D az Mar a de los ngeles Meri o Fuentes Fl vio dos Santos Gomes Hilary Jones Beatriz G Mamigonian Charles Beatty Medina Richard Price Sally Price Cassandra Pybus Karen Racine Ty M Reese Jo o Jos Reis Lorna Biddle Rinear Meredith L Roman Maya Talmon Chvaicer and Jerome Teelucksingh
