The Bombay Marines:

History of the Indian Navy 1613-1863 Volume I Charles Rathbone Low, 2012-09-06 Charles Rathbone Low like so many servants of the East India Company came from an Anglo Irish ascendancy family with estates in county Galway His grandmother was a daughter of the 4th Viscount Boyne his grandfather served in H M 76th Foot his father was a Major in the Bengal Native Infantry and he himself married the daughter of a General Charles was born at Dublin on 30th October 1837 He entered the East India Company s Indian Navy in 1853 and saw active service against pirates and slave traders in waters ranging from Zanzibar to the China Seas only to have his career cut short in 1863 when the Indian Navy was abolished hence the termina date of the present work Returning to England he was appointed the first Librarian and Assistant Secretary of the Royal United Services Institution in 1865 leaving the post in 1868 to concentrate on a career as a gentleman author and representative of the past glories of the Indian Navy Beginning in 1866 and continuing until his death in 1918 he published a stream of monographs which included histories of the Royal Navy the British Army the First Afghan War maritime discovery and African exploration and biographies of Field Marshal Pollock and Captain James Cook while at the same time contributing hundreds of articles and shorter pieces to The Times and to literary and learned journals The work which has lasted longest indeed which still has no rivals is his history of the Indian Navy published in 1877 coincidentally the year when the two post 1863 local non combatant marine services based at Bombay and Calcutta were reorganised as H M Indian Marine eventually the Royal Indian Navy An in depth history of this second phase of the Indian Navy s existence has yet to appear but at least we have the mass of information accumulated by original edition have now become both scarce and expensive so the present reprint is most welcome it also provides the opportunity to partly remedy the annoying lack of an index in the 1877 work Low contented himself with detailed chapter summaries which can still stand for a broad subject approach The London Stamp Exchange added indexes of ships and officers compiled by Captain Douglas Morris R N Retd whose enthusiasm for the Indian Navy and its medals was largely responsible for the reissue of Low History of the Indian Navy Charles Rathbone Low, 1877 The Bombay Marines Porter Hill, 2013-02-01 The Bombay Marines are the East India Company s private fighting ships defending India s coast and naval trading routes Captain Adam Horne is the commander of history s first naval commandos and a hero in the mould of Hornblower Alexander Kent s Bolitho or Patrick O Brian s Aubrey and Maturin In this the first part of the Adam Horne trilogy it is 1761 and Pondicherry the last stronghold of the French in India has fallen to the British In a novel that Lloyd s List described as everything a good yarn should have Captain Horne is given a secret mission to capture the defeated French commander Thomas Lally from the prison of Fort St George on Madras if he fails his unit will be disbanded When most of the Bombay Marines are deployed on the east coast of India Horne finds his unit is left undermanned Horne is left with only one choice to take his pick of the motley collection of thieves rapists and murderers held in the prisons of Bombay Castle and train them for what will be the most closely guarded campaign of the Seven Years War Drawing on a wealth of historical characters and events from the East India Company's early history and the author's first hand knowledge of India and the Arabian Sea the action moves from sea to land from the colourful waterfront of Bombay to the sadistic penal colony of Bull Island and the cataclysmic denouement within the walls of Fort St George Captain Adam Horne is a dashing dare devil operating among the exotic dangers of Britain's most coveted territory
