Excerpt from The Story of the Greatest Nations And the World's Famous Events: Facing each picture is a brief description telling its story and at the same time carrying onward the general history to the next illustration. Thus the picture descriptions form by themselves an outline account of the world complete yet so simple so vivid SO emphasized by the pictures that the merest child can follow it all with ease. Accompanying this runs the much fuller narrative of the text told clearly accurately with a careful avoidance of technical phrases and labored explanations yet with an earnest insistence on history's larger meanings the lessons which it carries for us all.
