Cook](#) Theodore Andrea Cook, The Story of Rouen \(Classic Reprint\) Theodore Andrea Cook, 2016-06-16 Excerpt from The Story of Rouen HE story of a town must differ from the history of a nation in that it is concerned not with large issues but with familiar and domestic details A nation has no individuality No single phrase can fairly sum up the characteristics of a people But a town is like one face picked out of a crowd a face that shows not merely the experience of our human span but the traces of centuries that go backward into unrecorded time In all this slow development a character that is individual and inseparable is gradually formed That character never fades It is to be found first in the geographical laws of permanent or slowly changed surroundings and secondly in the outward aspect of the dwellings built by man for his personal comfort or for the good of the material community or for his spiritual needs About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any
