Elliot Aronson, Shelley Patnoe

The Jigsaw Classroom:

The Jigsaw Classroom Elliot Aronson, Shelley Patnoe, 1997 This book is written primarily for teachers who are looking for ways to expand their classroom repertoire in a more cooperative direction It is aimed at demonstrating the benefits of cooperative learning and showing teachers how they can easily adopt the jigsaw method and integrate it into their usual ways of teaching The Jigsaw Classroom, 1978-06 Cooperation in the Classroom Elliot Aronson, Shelley Patnoe, 2011

The jigsaw classroom is a cooperative learning technique with a three decade track record of successfully reducing racial conflict and increasing positive educational outcomes Not only does it open the door to warmer closer friendships within and across ethnic boundaries it has also proved effective at raising the self esteem of students while improving their performance and increasing their liking for school and their enthusiasm about learning The jigsaw technique was first developed in the early 1970s by psychologist Elliot Aronson and his students at the University of Texas and the University of California Since then hundreds of schools have used the jigsaw classroom with great success With a new foreword by Joshua Aronson

Education Reform, volume III Jian Chen, Xiaoyun Zeng, Zhiyong Zhang, Yasusei Kudo , Trine Fink, 2025-11-18 This Research Topic is part of the series of Public Health Promotion and Medical Education Reform Public Health Promotion and Medical Education Reform Volume I Public Health Promotion and Medical Education Reform Volume II All over the world more than 80% of medical service and public health education are conducted by graduates from local regional medical schools Therefore these schools are facing the pressing demand for better health services principally due to population growth and greater public health awareness However the traditional medical education is failing to cope with these challenges largely because of didactic teaching methods fragmented curricula and passive learning which cannot train our students to become self directed lifelong learners and qualified healthcare workers We are also very aware that simply expanding the class size of medical schools and opening new medical schools cannot meet this demand The medical school educators thus implement a series of reform across every aspect of the medical education e g teaching content style and methodology which has been gradually deepened in many majors such as medicine nursing pharmacy and public health Otherwise the outbreak of 2019 novel coronavirus emphasizes the vital interplay of public health and medical education disciplines promoting the integration of public health content into medical education That is the better healthcare workers for the future should be responsible for not only disease diagnosis and treatment but also health promotion and disease prevention The COVID 19 pandemic reveals the urgent need for healthcare services worldwide that is outstripping the pace of healthcare workforce growth underlining the necessity of a paradigm shift in medical education Therefore the aim of the Research Topic is to provide a comprehensive overview of current reform attempts in education for healthcare workers mainly but not exclusively focusing on the high quality research studies carried out in local regional medical schools In addition it is being widely accepted that disease prevention and health promotion may be more effective in improving the health status of a population We thus greatly encourage contributions providing innovative methods and assessment of incorporation of core public health into the medical curricula Both ongoing and completed original research work is welcome Consequently areas to be covered in this Research Topic may include but are not limited to Situation and trends of public health research practice and policy Development and evaluation of public health education National and international medical education reform to produce well trained students and workers undergraduates and postgraduates local regional medical schools Implementation and evaluation of integrating public health content in the medical curricula La Red ,1983 Child Development John W. Santrock,1996 Dealing with Differences Edward E. Sampson,1999 TofC cont Conclusions challenging prejudice Undoing prejudice I lessons from the three lenses Undoing prejudice II empowerment In this book the author uses historical sociological and psychological perspectives to help students see a complete picture of prejudice Pref This book first consider s the meaning of differences and how prejudice is structured around dealing with differences It next examines those efforts to understand prejudice that argue that perhaps there is something about the targeted groups that would explain why they are thought ill of and perhaps even treated differently from the rest of us The book then refocuses from the targeted groups to the prejudiced person arguing that perhaps there is something about people who are prejudiced that we must examine in order to understand this troubling topic Next the author argue s that because prejudice is an intergroup phenomenon perhaps it is best to examine prejudice in terms of intergroup relations Finally the book addresses two additional issues the consequences of prejudice and what to do to reduce prejudice Ch 1 Life-span Development John W.
