Sons Of Chong:

The Chinese in Mexico, 1882-1940 Robert Chao Romero, 2011-06-29 An estimated 60 000 Chinese entered Mexico during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries constituting Mexico's second largest foreign ethnic community at the time. The Chinese in Mexico provides a social history of Chinese immigration to and settlement in Mexico in the context of the global Chinese diaspora of the era. Robert Romero argues that Chinese immigrants turned to Mexico as a new land of economic opportunity after the passage of the U.S. Chinese Exclusion Act of 1882. As a consequence of this legislation, Romero claims, Chinese immigrants journeyed to Mexico in order to gain illicit entry into the United States and in search of employment opportunities within Mexico's developing economy. Romero details the development after 1882 of the Chinese transnational commercial orbit, a network encompassing China, Latin America, Canada, and the Caribbean, shaped and traveled by entrepreneurial Chinese pursuing commercial opportunities in human smuggling, labor contracting, wholesale merchandising, and small scale trade. Romero's study is based on a wide array of Mexican and U.S. archival sources. It draws from such quantitative and qualitative sources as oral histories, census records, consular reports, INS interviews, and legal documents. Two sources used for the first time in this kind of study provide a comprehensive sociological and historical window into the lives of Chinese immigrants in Mexico during these years: the Chinese Exclusion Act case files of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service and the 1930 Mexican municipal census manuscripts. From these documents, Romero crafts a vividly personal and compelling story of individual lives caught in an extensive network of early transnationalism.

One Hundred Years' History Of The Chinese In Singapore: The Annotated Edition Ong Siang Song, 2020-03-12 Since its publication in 1923, Sir Song Ong Siang's One Hundred Years History of the Chinese in Singapore has become the standard biographical reference of prominent Chinese in early Singapore at least in the English language. This fact would have surprised Song, who saw himself primarily as a compiler of historical and biographical snippets. The original was not referenced in academic fashion and contained a number of errors. This annotation by the Singapore Heritage Society takes Song's classic text and updates it with detailed annotations of sources that Song himself might have consulted and includes more recent scholarship on the lives and times of various personalities who are mentioned in the original book. This annotated edition is commissioned by the National Library Board, Singapore, and co-published with World Scientific Publishing.

Neo-Confucianism and Science in Korea Sang-ho Ro, 2021-02-15 Historians of late premodern Korea have tended to regard it as a hermit kingdom isolated from its neighbours and the wider world. In fact, as Ro argues in this book, Korean intellectuals were heavily influenced by both Chinese Neo-Confucianism and the European Enlightenment in the late 18th and 19th centuries. In the late Choson period, the regime felt threatened by the new, more empirical approaches to knowledge emerging from both the East and the West. For this reason, many Korean intellectuals felt it necessary to work in the shadows and formed secret societies for the study of nature. Because of the secrecy of these societies, much of their work has remained unknown even in Korea until recent years Ho looks at the work of these intellectuals and analyses the impact their thinking and experimentation had on knowledge production in Korea A fascinating insight into the largely overlooked story of how globalization affected intellectual life in Korea before the 20th century This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Korean history and of Asian intellectual history more broadly Under the Ancestors' Eyes Martina Deuchler, 2020-05-11 Under the Ancestors Eyes presents a new approach to Korean social history by focusing on the origin and development of the indigenous descent group Martina Deuchler maintains that the surprising continuity of the descent group model gave the ruling elite cohesion and stability and enabled it to retain power from the early Silla fifth century to the late nineteenth century This argument underpinned by a fresh interpretation of the late fourteenth century Koryŏ Chosŏn transition illuminates the role of Neo Confucianism as an ideological and political device through which the elite regained and maintained dominance during the Chosŏn period Neo Confucianism as espoused in Korea did not level the social hierarchy but instead tended to sustain the status system In the late Chosŏn it also provided ritual models for the lineage building with which local elites sustained their preeminence vis vis an intrusive state Though Neo Confucianism has often been blamed for the rigidity of late Chosŏn society it was actually the enduring native kinship ideology that preserved the strict social status system By utilizing historical and social anthropological methodology and analyzing a wealth of diverse materials Deuchler highlights Korea's distinctive elevation of the social over the political The Comacrib Directory of China, 1925 The Zuo Tradition / Zuozhuan Reader, 2020-10-31 Essential passages from a classic Chinese history organized topically introduced and annotated Zuo Tradition China's first great work of history was completed by about 300 BCE and recounts events during a period of disunity from 722 to 468 BCE The text which plays a foundational role in Chinese culture has been newly translated into English by Stephen Durrant Wai yee Li and David Schaberg in an unabridged bilingual three volume set This reader arranges key passages from that set according to topic as a guide to the study of early Chinese culture and thought Chapter subjects include succession struggles women warfare ritual propriety governance law and punishment famous statesmen diplomacy Confucius and his disciples dreams and anomalies and cultural others An introduction explains the nature and significance of Zuozhuan and discusses how to read the text Section introductions and judicious footnoting provide contextual information and explain the historical significance and meaning of particular events The Zuo Tradition Zuozhuan Reader will appeal to readers interested in Chinese and world history claiming a place on library and personal bookshelves alongside other narratives from the ancient world The North-China Herald and Supreme Court & Consular Gazette, 1913 The Mau Lineage Edward Seu Chen Mau, 1989 While there was an identifiable First Founding Ancestor Mao Sheong Kung who started the first of the forty three generations of his lineage around 1484 years ago A D 500 in Ket On Chi An in Mandarin Prefecture Kiangsi Province the Mao families of Sun Chin Kee Ling Ha Ma Ben Boo Tin Sum and Hawaii identify Mao Ngien Foong Kung of the thirty third generation as their Founding Ancestor He was
