Sound System Of French:

The Sounds of French Bernard Tranel, 1987-12-25 This introductory textbook is principally addressed to English speakers who want systematically to improve their pronunciation of French whether relative beginners or more advanced students. It describes the difficulties typically encountered, explains why they occur and suggests ways to resolve them. It also explains how certain properties of the French sound system came about as the language changed over time and it includes an examination of the relationship between French spelling and French pronunciation. Although focusing on the pronunciation of standard French, different pronunciations in other varieties of French (Qu bec French, Southern French etc) are also considered. In addition from a more theoretical perspective the book provides readers with a fundamental understanding of the way French sounds are produced and how they behave according to general linguistic principles. Overall the book stands as a multifaceted introduction to French sounds drawing for its account on contrastive analysis, general phonetics, traditional knowledge and modern developments in phonology, historical linguistics and orthography. Teachers of French will welcome Bernard Tranel's wide scholarship and firm grasp of teaching principles while students will welcome the refreshing clarity of style and organization.

French Sound Structure Douglas C. Walker, 2001 A comprehensive, detailed and well-illustrated undergraduate French language linguistics textbook with CD ROM. The book focuses on pronunciation of Modern Standard French and incorporates regional and social variations, abbreviative processes and word play. It looks at historical phonological changes which continue through today. Perfect for readers and learners with little or no formal training in linguistics. The CD ROM provides invaluable oral examples crucial to linguistic study.

Colin Crisp re-evaluates the stylistic evolution of the classic French cinema and represents the New Wave film makers as its natural heirs rather than the mould breakers they perceived themselves to be.

Movie History: A Survey Douglas Gomery, Clara Pafort-Overduin, 2011-02-28 Covering everything from Edison to Avatar, Gomery and Pafort Overduin have written the clearest, best organized, and most user friendly film history textbook on the market. It masterfully distills the major trends and movements of film history so that the subject can be taught in one semester. And each chapter includes a compelling case study that highlights an important moment in movie history and at the same time subtly introduces a methodological approach. This book is a pleasure to read and to teach. Peter Decherney, University of Pennsylvania USA. In addition to providing a comprehensive overview of the development of film around the world, the book gives us examples of how to do film history, including organizing the details and discussing their implications. Hugh McCarney, Western Connecticut State University USA. Douglas Gomery and Clara Pafort Overduin have created an outstanding textbook with an impressive breadth of content, covering over 100 years in the evolution of cinema. Movie History A Survey is an engaging book that will reward readers with a contemporary perspective of the history of motion pictures and provide a solid foundation for the study of film. Matthew Hanson, Eastern Michigan University USA. How can we understand the history of film? Historical facts don't answer the basic questions of film history. History as this fascinating book shows, is more than the simple accumulation of film titles, facts and figures. This is a survey of over 100 years of cinema history from its beginnings in 1895 to its current state in the twenty first century. An accessible introductory text, Movie History A Survey looks at not only the major films, filmmakers and cinema institutions throughout the years, but also extends to the production, distribution, exhibition, technology and reception of films. The textbook is divided chronologically into four sections using the timeline of technological changes. Section One looks at the era of silent movies from 1895 to 1927. Section Two starts with the coming of sound and covers 1928 until 1950. Section Three runs from 1951 to 1975 and deals with the coming and development of television and Section Four focuses on the coming of home video and the transition to digital from 1975 to 2010. Key pedagogical features include timelines in each section, which help students to situate the films within a broader historical context. Case study boxes with close up analysis of specific film histories and a particular emphasis on film reception, lavishly illustrated with over 450 color images to put faces to names and to connect pictures to film titles. Margin notes add background information and clarity, a glossary for clear understanding of the key terms, described references and further reading at the end of each chapter to enhance further study.
