The Catalyst:

Ammonia Synthesis Catalysts: Innovation And Practice Huazhang Liu, 2013-03-21 This book provides a review of worldwide developments in ammonia synthesis catalysts over the last 30 years. It focuses on the new generation of Fe<sub>1-x</sub>O<sub>x</sub> based catalysts and ruthenium catalysts, both of which are major breakthroughs for fused iron catalysts. The basic theory for ammonia synthesis is systematically explained, covering topics such as the chemical components, crystal structure, preparation, reduction, performance evaluation, characterization of the catalysts, the mechanism, and kinetics of ammonia synthesis reaction. Both theory and practice are combined in this presentation, with emphasis on the research methods, application, and exploitation of catalysts. The comprehensive volume includes an assessment of the economic and engineering aspects of ammonia plants based on the performance of catalysts. Recent developments in photo catalysis, electro catalysis, biocatalysis, and new uses of ammonia are also introduced in this book. The author, Professor Huazhang Liu, has been engaged in research and practice for more than 50 years in this field and was the inventor of the first Fe<sub>1-x</sub>O<sub>x</sub> based catalysts in the world. He has done a lot of research on Fe<sub>3</sub>O<sub>4</sub> based and ruthenium based catalysts and has published more than 300 papers and obtained 21 patents during his career.

The Sustainable City XVI S. Hernandez, J.M. Miralles i Garcia, 2022-12-12 Various aspects of the urban environment, with an emphasis on solutions leading towards sustainability, are the focus of the research contained in this volume. The included papers were presented at the 15th International Conference on Urban Regeneration and Sustainability. The task of researchers is to improve the capacity to manage human activities pursuing welfare and prosperity in the urban environment. Any investigation or planning in a city ought to consider the relationships between the parts and their connections with the living world. The dynamics of its networks, flows of energy, matter, people, goods, information, and other resources are fundamental for an understanding of the evolving nature of today's cities. Coastal areas and coastal cities are an important area covered by this book, as they have some specific features. Their strategic location facilitates transportation and the development of related activities, but this requires the existence of large ports with the corresponding increase in maritime and road traffic and all of the inherent negative effects and can be directly affected by the rise in sea level. This requires the development of well planned and managed urban environments, not only for reasons of efficiency and economics, but also to avoid inflicting environmental degradation that causes the deterioration of natural resources, quality of life, and human health. Urban agriculture and food sovereignty are crucial issues that are included due to their impact on city life. The scale of modern food production has created and exacerbated many vulnerabilities, and the feeding of cities is now infinitely more complex. In recent years, there has been a rapid expansion in initiatives and projects exploring innovative methods and processes for sustainable food production. These projects are mainly focused on providing alternative models that shift the power back from the global food system to communities and farmers, improving social cohesion, health, and wellbeing. These initiatives have demonstrated that urban agriculture has the potential to transform our living environment.

towards ecologically sustainable and healthy cities      Iron and Cobalt Catalysts Wilson D. Shafer, Gary Jacobs, 2020-06-23

Since the turn of the last century when the field of catalysis was born iron and cobalt have been key players in numerous catalysis processes. These metals due to their ability to activate CO and CH<sub>4</sub> have a major economic impact worldwide. Several industrial processes and synthetic routes use these metals: biomass to liquids (BTL), coal to liquids (CTL), natural gas to liquids (GTL), water gas shift, alcohol synthesis, alcohol steam reforming, polymerization processes, cross coupling reactions, and photocatalyst activated reactions. A vast number of materials are produced from these processes including oil lubricants, waxes, diesel and jet fuels, hydrogen (e.g. fuel cell applications), gasoline, rubbers, plastics, alcohols, pharmaceuticals, agrochemicals, feed stock chemicals, and other alternative materials. However, given the true complexities of the variables involved in these processes, many key mechanistic issues are still not fully defined or understood. This Special Issue of Catalysis will be a collaborative effort to combine current catalysis research on these metals from experimental and theoretical perspectives on both heterogeneous and homogeneous catalysts. We welcome contributions from the catalysis community on catalyst characterization, kinetics, reaction mechanism, reactor development, theoretical modeling, and surface science.

The John Zink Hamworthy Combustion Handbook Charles E. Baukal, Jr., 2013-08-23. Despite the length of time it has been around, its importance and vast amounts of research on combustion is still far from being completely understood. Issues regarding the environment, cost, and fuel consumption add further complexity, particularly in the process and power generation industries. Dedicated to advancing the art and science of industry.
