Lectionary Stories for Preaching and Teaching Keith Hewitt, 2018-10-09 Storytellers who excel at their craft can draw readers or listeners into the worlds they create using characters and situations to entertain and enlighten us Jesus the Master Storyteller often spoke using parables short stories that conveyed spiritual truths By drawing his listeners into his stories he unlocked their minds and hearts to hear the truth he was relating to them Asked about his style and direction when authoring this book Keith Hewitt said I thought it would be interesting to look at the Biblical passages from a slightly different angle than we might normally see them Some of the stories are set in the time and place of the passage others are set in different periods using different characters but in all of them I try to humanize the events so that the reader can sense that they're happening to real people I think this can help them to connect to the meaning of the story Some of the stories can easily be adapted as vignettes or monologues to be performed during worship Depending upon the age of the students other stories could be used in Sunday School as alternative texts to get students thinking about a particular passage in different ways This book may be used for Preaching illustrations Sermon starters Stand alone sermons Teaching aids Inspirational devotional reading Keith Hewitt has a wide variety of experience Prior to pastoring United Methodist congregations in Wisconsin he was employed in various capacities

Preachers and preaching Henry Christmas,1878 Sermons. First Series Samuel Danks Waddy,1876 Stories to Live by Norman M. Pritchard,2017-11-15 In offering these sermons to a wider readership I am seeking to repay a debt It is a large debt because in many ways my Christian life has been shaped and enriched by sermons beginning with the sermons I heard in the church in Glasgow where I grew up and where Dr Harry Thompson made scripture vividly alive My indebtedness continues through the numerous occasions when I have been ministered to by the sermons of others including published sermons as many of my footnotes will demonstrate It was in that church in Glasgow that I heard God s call to ministry Our pastor gave the youth group amazing freedom in all our program activities there was of course no youth pastor to shepherd us One aspect of that freedom was that each year we were invited to conduct an evening service sermon included and the pastor left us entirely to do it ourselves One year it fell to me to deliver the message As it happened I was in the middle of a crossroads my plans for my future career were in doubt and ministry had unexpectedly suggested itself to me I was resisting feeling properly inadequate and unworthy until that evening service Not that my inadequacy or unworthiness had been removed but my hesitation about pursuing this sense of call was removed and I glimpsed something of the privilege and joy that preaching offered Lectionary Stories for Preaching and Teaching Peter Smith,2017-08-03 A good story of faith allows us to better see ourselves and our relationships while offering to us an opportunity to consider and know God We enter into the story and emerge a different person Peter Andrew Smith Restaurant workers closing up for the night do their duty to prepare the store for the morning crew despite their impatience to leave An elderly man finds hope and encouragement in a congregation where he never quite felt like he belonged These are the simple quiet vignettes Smith offers in his third collection of stories Lectionary Stories for Preaching and Teaching Series II Cycle Bis inspired by the details Jesus draws from everyday life in the Gospel of Mark Likewise Smith delves into the ordinary to explore the extraordinary power of the Holy Spirit alive from moment to moment today Lectionary Stories for Preaching and Teaching is

The Exempla Or Illustrative Stories from the Sermones Vulgares of Jacques de Vitry Jacques (de Vitry), 1890

The Works of John Wesley: Second series of sermons concluded. Also third, fourth and fifth series (through 141) John Wesley, 1872

Retelling the Story Larry Lange, 2005 Is the typical didactic sermon still an adequate vehicle for communicating essential biblical truth In this provocative and enlightening volume Larry Lange contends that story sermons are a far more effective way to proclaim the Good News in a modern world that largely communicates through narrative driven multimedia spectacle The powerful stories in the Bible don't need to be turned into morals or ideas to convey the gospel But because they were composed in a radically different cultural context they may require additional explanation or interpretation to make them relevant for contemporary audiences So how can a preacher add narrative elements to these stories without diminishing their dramatic impact or changing their meaning Retelling The Story outlines an innovative process for retelling biblical stories that utilizes fictional elements and contexts yet remains faithful to the scriptural text Several creative and homiletical issues are comprehensively examined and six sample sermons are included to illustrate various aspects of this process at work Inject exciting new life into the old old story with this primer for developing dramatic sermons that touch hearts and minds and souls Lange s book is very well connected to recent homiletical literature is well researched deeply biblical and creatively challenging Parish pastors will benefit from this clear and brief presentation of biblical retelling Richard A Jensen Carlson Professor of Homiletics emeritus Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago Larry Lange and his wife Julie Wrubbel Lange serve as the pastors of Grace Lutheran Church in Green Bay Wisconsin Lange is a graduate of Carthage College B A the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee M A the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago M Div and the Association of Chicago Theological Schools D Min Stories that Continue to Speak to Us Today William Powell Tuck,2022 When Jesus first began preaching he told parables that brought the kingdom of God to life through everyday scenarios that his listeners would understand Although modern Christians may not work with animals or sow seeds daily William Tuck believes that these biblical stories still have much to teach us In Stories That Continue to Speak to Us Today Tuck highlights how these tales have remained in our minds influencing how we live our daily lives Tuck believes that Jesus used parables in his teachings because he knew that people would remember the story even if the deeper meaning was not yet clear to listeners Pastors and other leaders will be able to draw upon these parables that Tuck has explored revisiting classic tales through his eyes to find new meanings As a previous professor of Christian preaching Tuck has included detailed steps to help pastors as well as Christians in general to prepare for revisiting Jesus parables These unique tales open the mind and heart inviting listeners to discover the true kingdom of God Stories that Live Gary L Carver,2020-12 These are thirty six sermons hammered out on the hard anvil of life lived with a local community of faith Sometimes a preaching minister is overwhelmed with the inspiration of having something to say Sometimes a preaching minister is overwhelmed by the responsibility of having to say something These sermons fall into the category of the later They were forged from the constant experience of having to answer the bell to preach each Lord s Day regardless of circumstance They were fashioned from the background of 49 years in the pastorate and six years with this particular congregation one that presents to the proclaimer the pressure of knowing good preaching whether they hear it from me or not There is no consistent style or form to these sermons Each sermon draws its substance and form from the experience of its respective text as did the worship services in which they were proclaimed The nature of these sermons is more inductive than deductive as were of course the parables from which they came A conscientious effort was made to prepare and present these sermons in a way as to preserve the oral nature of preaching as well as the nature of the parable itself The congregation at worship was invited to hear the scriptural texts and the sermons were delivered without a manuscript One quickly will note that there often are several different sermons preached on the same parable Hopefully this will preserve the integrity of the arena of interpretation as well as applying its truth to different situations at different times
