Storm Over Asia:

Storm Over Asia Amy Sargeant, 2007 Storm over Asia The Heir to Genghis Khan was the third of Vsevolod Pudovkin's great silent films. Released in 1928 it confirmed the director's reputation and Soviet cinema's growing stature internationally. It was subsequently re-edited, sonorised and re-released in 1949. The Buriat Mongolian actor Valeri Inkizhinov stars as the trapper hero Bair, a character partly inspired by the actual Revolutionary figure Sukhebaator. Many of the extras in the film had participated in the events depicted. The film acknowledges a debt to D. W. Griffith and documents the everyday life and rituals of the people living around Lake Baikal, a culture that was almost entirely suppressed in the 1930s. This KINOfile describes the circumstances under which Storm over Asia was produced and distributed and discusses the warm reception of the film in Russia, Germany and France. In Britain the film was widely understood as an attack on British involvement in the Russian Civil War and on colonial policy in China and India and was banned. Amy Sargeant also examines the potency of the Genghis Khan myth for a Soviet audience and the continuing resonance of this fine film.

Erotic Grotesque Nonsense Miriam Silverberg, 2006 Japanese modern times Japanese modern within modernity. Placing the consumer subject within mass culture. Erotic grotesque nonsense as montage Japanese modern culture as politics. The documentary impulse. Japanese modern sites. The modern girl as militant movement on the streets. The café waitress sang the blues. Friends of the movies from ero to empire. The household becomes modern life. Asakusa honky-tonk tempo. Asakusa eroticism. Gonda Yasunoke's Asakusa. Soeda Azenbo's Asakusa. Kawabata Yasunari's Asakusa. Iwasaki Akira's pork cutlet problem. Hollywood as fantasy. Ozaki Midori love for a cane and a hat. Down and out grotesquerie. Modern nonsense.

Citing China Gina Marchetti, 2018-03-31 Citing China explores the role film plays in creating a common ground for the exchange of political and aesthetic ideas between China and the rest of the world. It does so by examining the depiction of China in contemporary film, looking at how global filmmakers cite China on screen. Author Gina Marchetti's aim is not to point to how China continues to function as a metaphor or allusion that has little to do with the geopolitical actualities of contemporary China. Rather, she highlights China's position within global film culture, examining how cinematic quotations link current films to past political movements and unresolved social issues in a continuing multidirectional conversation. Marchetti covers a wide range of cinematic encounters across the China West divide. She looks closely at specific movements in world film history and at key films that have influenced the way China is depicted in global cinema today, from popular entertainment to international art cinema, the DV revolution, video activism and the emergence of festival films. Marchetti first considers contemporary Chinese language cinema. Edward Yang, Hou Hsiao Hsien, she then turns to Italian Neorealism and its importance to the Chinese Sixth Generation. Jia Zhangke and the French New Wave's ripple effect on filmmakers associated with the Hong Kong New Wave and Taiwan New Cinema. Ann Hui, Evans Chan. As the People's Republic of China has gained increased global economic clout, filmmakers draw on Euro-American formulae. Bruce Lee, Clara Law to attract new viewers and define cinematic pleasures for new audiences on the other side of the earth The book concludes with a consideration of the role film festivals women filmmakers and emerging audiences play in the new world of global cinema Citing China offers a framework for examining cinematic influence as a dynamic and multidirectional process It is carefully researched theoretically sophisticated and animated by detailed and historically nuanced studies of individual films making clear just how much a part of global film culture today s China is The book makes important contributions to debates in transnational film studies postmodern versus modernist aesthetics and politics and Asian as well as European art cinema Russia in Britain, 1880-1940 Rebecca Beasley, Philip Ross Bullock, 2013-09-26 Russia in Britain explores the extent of British fascination with Russian and Soviet culture from the 1880s up to the Soviet Union s entry into the Second World War Edinburgh Companion to Virginia Woolf and the Arts Maggie Humm, 2010-04-20 The Edinburgh Companion to Virginia Woolf and the Arts is the most authoritative and up to date guide to Virginia Woolf s artistic influences and associations In original extensive and newly researched chapters by internationally recognised authors the Companion explores Woolf s ideas about creativity and the nature of art in the context of the recent turn to the visual in modernist studies with its focus on visual technologies and the significance of material production The in depth chapters place Woolf s work in relation to the most influential aesthetic theories and artistic practices including Bloomsbury aesthetics art and race Vanessa Bell and painting art galleries theatre music dance fashion entertaining garden and book design broadcasting film and photography No previous book concerned with Woolf and the arts has been so wide ranging or has paid such close attention to both public and domestic art forms Illustrated with 16 colour as well as 39 black and white illustrations and with guides to further reading the Companion will be an essential reference work for scholars students and the general public Key Features An essential reference tool for all those working on or interested in Virginia Woolf the arts visual culture and modernist studies Provides a new intellectual framework for the exciting discoveries of the past decades Draws on archival and historical research into Virginia Woolf s manuscripts and her Bloomsbury milieu Original chapters from expert contributors newly commissioned by Maggie Humm widely known for her important work on Virginia Woolf and visual culture Combines broad synthesis and original reflection setting Woolf s work in historical cultural and artistic contexts History Computer Review ,2001 The 9.5mm Vintage Film Encyclopaedia Patrick Moules, 2020-07-28 Written in both English and French The 9 5mm Vintage Film Encyclopaedia provides a single volume comprehensive catalogue of all known 9 5mm film releases including Films Comprising 12 460 individual entries this A Z reference index provides the main listing for each film and its origin where known along with additional information including cast and crew and cross references to other relevant material People This index of all known actors and film crew comprising over 12 000 names provides a listing which is cross referenced to the main entry for each original film they worked on Numbers Path Baby Path scope and other distributors catalogue numbers film length release dates where known and the series in which the films were organised are set out in detail With a foreword from eminent film historian and
