Stories That Shape Us:

Shaped by the Story Michael Novelli, 2010-02-02 A good story draws students in engaging their hearts and minds leaving them wanting more God's story is like this a captivating epic that stretches from the beginning of time across our lives and into the future calling us to find ourselves in it We can help students to be captured by this amazing story rather than seeing the Bible as confusing boring or irrelevant After ten years in youth ministry Michael Novelli felt like he had tried everything to help his students connect with the Bible Then a missionary introduced him to a unique ancient way to engage people with the Bible through story Michael learned the art of Storying a sequential telling of Bible stories followed by a time of creative retelling and in depth dialogue God used this process to completely transform his youth group as they found themselves experiencing God in a whole new way Take a journey into the amazing process of Storying and discover how it can change your life and ministry This new approach to learning builds a lasting theological foundation while challenging students to discover their unique identity and calling in God's story Shaped by the Story helps you understand why Storying connects with students today and provides all you need to introduce Storying to your group including sample narratives and an interactive training DVD

The American Dream for Students of Color Gretchen Givens Generett, Amy M. Olson, 2021-03-24 In The American Dream for Students of Color the tenets of the American Dream as a merit narrative enacted in schools are examined to better understand how beliefs about talent hard work and perseverance support the status quo rather than critical analyze barriers to educational success for students of color and students from a poverty context Using narrative methodologies this book explores the connections and consistencies within and between their personal narratives and the narratives of school youth and educators that work with them Based on analysis of these shared stories the authors argue for the importance of moving from individualized success stories that reify hard work and perseverance to collective communal stories that serve to break down myths of meritocracy critically examine inequities and move educational advocates forward in authentic audacious hopeful ways

Sidekick Intersectionality in Protagonists by SL Huang The Danger of the False Narrative by LaShawn Wanak Afterword by Jim C Hines Reading List Hold Me Tight Sue Johnson, 2011-02-03 Developed by Dr Sue Johnson over 20 years ago and practised all over the world EFT has been heralded by Time magazine and the New York Times as the couple therapy with the highest rate of success Couples who use EFT see a 75 per cent success rate The therapy programme focuses on the emotional connection of every relationship by de-escalating conflict creating a safe emotional connection and strengthening bonds between partners In HOLD ME TIGHT EFT pioneer Dr Sue Johnson presents her highly effective therapy model to the general public for the first time Through case studies from her practice illuminating advice and practical exercises couples will learn how to nurture their relationships and ensure a lifetime of love Mass Moralizing Phil Hopkins, 2015-04-02 Mass Moralizing Marketing and Moral Storytelling examines the narratives of today's brand marketing which largely focuses on creating an emotional attachment to a brand rather than directly promoting a product's qualities or features Phil Hopkins explores these narratives influence on how we think about ourselves and our moral possibilities our cultural ideas about morality and our relations to each other He closely studies the relationship between three interrelated dynamics the power of narrative in the construction of identity and world the truth telling pretenses of mass marketing and the growth of moralizing as the primary moral discourse practice in contemporary consumer culture Mass Moralizing scrutinizes the way marketing speaks to us in explicitly moralistic terms significantly influencing how we think about ourselves and our moral possibilities

Who God Says You Are Klyne R. Snodgrass, 2018-01-08 WHO ARE YOU For respected New Testament scholar Klyne Snodgrass this is the most important question a person can ask the question from which everything else in life flows Other questions follow What made you who you are Who gets to say who you are And perhaps most vital Who does God say you are In this book Snodgrass offers wise guidance to all who are wrestling with such universal human questions He examines nine factors including one's body personal history commitments and boundaries that shape human identity and he expertly draws out what the Bible tells us about who God says we are how we fit within God's purposes and how our God-given identity can and must impact the way we live our lives Practicing Reverence Ross Lawrence Smillie, 2011 Every day we hear more about how humans are degrading the environment and causing suffering to themselves and the rest of life Where will it end Practicing Reverence shows that it is up to all of us in community to live in ways that honour not just our own lives but all life Minister theologian and environmental ethics teacher Ross Smillie combines his areas of expertise to document our current situation and even more importantly to offer hope Smillie's science background is evident in his extensive factual reporting of ecological issues His engagement with theology and ethics balances scientific fact with moral and ethical ponderings The result is an up close view of how things are and a glimpse of how things could be Smillie's hope is that we learn to create sustainable earth communities that we will leave our children grandchildren and the generations beyond with a vital and bountiful earth upon which to live Of course to reach this goal we must adapt our current actions And so Smillie examines economics technology and religion and identifies alternatives to our current practices As a minister and theologian he also allows for the work of the Spirit to bring about more just and sustainable ways of living Practicing Reverence represents both a call and a challenge to those who genuinely desire the best for themselves and future generations to join their efforts for the good of all

Two Americas Scott Westwood, Sofi Ochoa, 2025-12-02 Love across cultures is beautiful powerful and unforgettable but it is also full of challenges that most couples never see coming When someone from the United States falls in love with someone from Latin America two emotional worlds meet Two Americas collide The result can be passion closeness and deep connection but also confusion mixed signals family pressure and misunderstandings that leave both partners frustrated and unsure This book exists to guide you through it with clarity and confidence What makes Two Americas different from every other relationship book is simple Scott Westwood and Sofia Ochoa are not researchers or distant observers They lived this life Their story began in Mexico more than twenty five years ago and grew into a marriage that blended cultures languages traditions and expectations They have raised five bilingual bicultural children lived in both countries built friendships across borders and helped many other US Latin couples find understanding and unity Their wisdom was not studied It was lived tested and strengthened over decades Inside this book you will discover the cultural truths every cross cultural couple must understand You will learn why Americans value independence direct communication and calm emotional tone and why Latin cultures value warmth expressiveness closeness and emotional presence You will explore how culture shapes dating romance affection jealousy loyalty boundaries gender expectations and the pace of commitment You will see why families influence everything why meeting the parents feels completely different in each culture and how to blend two family systems without losing yourself This book also walks you through the real challenges couples face with long distance relationships WhatsApp expectations the emotional pressure of visas and immigration choosing where to live adapting to a new country and facing culture shock together You will see stories from couples across Mexico Central America the Caribbean and South America with names and details changed that reveal the real struggles and victories of cross cultural love Most importantly Two Americas teaches you how to build a shared culture that belongs to both of you Not American Not Latin Yours together Filled with practical tools honest stories emotional guidance and encouragement from two authors who lived every chapter this book is a bridge of understanding for every US Latin couple Love across cultures is not easy but it is one of the most beautiful journeys two people can experience This book will show you how to walk that journey with wisdom peace unity and strength
