

1. How do the respondents' perceptions differ on group norms? When is the technology considered the medium for innovation? Is that enough for them to feel that they have the power to change?
How respondents' in general place different priorities? Their responses concerning innovation are also consistent with their educational level. Similarly, we can see that the responses of women and men are also similar.
The responses about the main factors and factors influencing and determining innovation are very similar.

2. What about their opinions about culture and religion? Do respondents think that people should have a better role in the development of the respondents' countries? Do respondents consider the culture and their religious beliefs influencing their responses on the innovation factor and technology. From these responses we can also conclude that respondents consider themselves to be open to the world environment. If the respondents change their evaluations on the factors influencing innovation, it will also affect their responses regarding the different areas of technology in innovation.
