McGregor,2015-10-16 Although a number of edited collections deal with either the languages of the world or the languages of particular regions or genetic families only a few cover sign languages or even include a substantial amount of information on them This handbook provides information on some 38 sign languages including basic facts about each of the languages structural aspects history and culture of the Deaf communities and history of research This information will be of interest not just to general audiences including those who are deaf but also to linguists and students of linguistics By providing information on sign languages in a manner accessible to a less specialist audience this volume fills an important gap in the literature

The Self as a Sign, the World, and the Other Susan Petrilli,2017-07-28 Ostentation of the Subject is a practice that is asserting itself ever more in today s world Consequently criticism by philosophers psychologists sociologists and anthropologists has been to little effect considering that they are not immune to such practices themselves The question of subjectivity concerns the close and the distant the self and the other the other from self and the other of self It is thus connected to the question of the sign It calls for a semiotic approach because the self is itself a sign its very own relation with itself is a relation among signs This book commits to developing a critique of subjectivity in terms of the material that the self is made of that is the material of signs Susan Petrilli highlights the scholarship of Charles Peirce Mikhail Bakhtin Roland Barthes Mary Boole Jacques Derrida Michael Foucault Emmanuel Levinas Claude Levi Strauss Maurice Merleau Ponty Charles Morris Thomas Sebeok Thomas Szasz and Victoria Welby Included are American and European theories and theorists evidencing the relationships interconnecting American Italian French and German scholarship Petrilli covers topics from identity issues that are part of semiotic views to the corporeal self as well as responsibility reason and freedom Her book should be read by philosophers semioticians and other social scientists

Law and Film Vittoria Becci,Alexia Katsiginis,Edward Van Daalen,2024-12-31 This book explores how law can be understood through film by engaging creatively with the intellectual and aesthetic dimensions of both fields The contributors to this book consider the need to turn to film and what this means for how we come to understand law and its absences The chapters explore a variety of narratives aesthetics cinematic epistemologies and legal phenomena from assessing law in social debates to film as legal critique from notions of justice to contemplations on evil and from masculine vigilantism to radical feminism Taken together they constitute an inspiring body of work that embodies an urgency for diverse and subversive ways to challenge law s formalism and authority and to think about and respond variously to law s impotence its disappointment or its boredom This book will appeal to legal scholars and students in law and the humanities especially those with interests in aesthetics law and literature law and culture law and society and critical legal theory

Station of the University of Wisconsin no 1 5 Critique of Information Scott Lash,2002-01-21 This penetrating book raises questions about how power operates in contemporary society It explains how the speed of information flows has eroded the separate space needed for critical reflection It argues that there is no longer an outside to the global flows of communication and that the critique of information must take place within the information itself The operative unit of the information society is the idea With the demise of depth reflection reflexivity through the idea now operates external to the subject in its circulation through networks of humans and intelligent machines It is these ideas that make the critique of information possible This book is a major testament to the prospects of culture politics and theory in the global information society Proceedings of the Society of Biblical Archaeology Society of Biblical Archæology (London, England),1893
