The Environmental Crisisopposing Viewpoints:

The Environmental Crisis: Opposing Viewpoints David L. Bender,1986      The Environmental Crisis--opposing Viewpoints Julie S. Bach,Lynn Hall,1986 In terms of balance between a safe environment and immediate human needs articles by scientists business executives and environmentalists debate several crucial controversies      The Environmental Crisis--opposing Viewpoints Neal Bernards,1991 Presents opposing views on questions of environmental protection and damage resulting from air and water pollution toxic wastes pesticides and the ever growing tide of refuse      Water Pollution Issues and Developments Sarah V. Thomas,2008 Pollution is undesirable state of the natural environment being contaminated with harmful substances as a consequence of human activities so that the environment becomes harmful or unfit for living things especially applicable to the contamination of soil water or the atmosphere by the discharge of harmful substances In addition to the harm to living beings both present or future and known or unknown pollution cleanup and surveillance are enormous financial drains of the economies of the world This book focuses on issues and developments critical for the field      The Environmental Crisis--opposing Viewpoints Julie S. Bach,Lynn Hall,1986 In terms of balance between a safe environment and immediate human needs articles by scientists business executives and environmentalists debate several crucial controversies      Is There an Environmental Crisis? David L. Bender,1986 A selection of articles discussing various aspects of the environmental problem including its history the causes and effects people's reactions and outlook for the future      The Environmental Crisis and Art Eva Maria Räpple,2019-02-12 Climate change is a defining issue of our time for which the immediate as well as potential future scope causes enormous impediments to human understanding and comprehension It is argued here that humans ought to make wise use of their capacity of thinking language and communication in working on the task of responsible action Required is nothing less than moving out of thoughtlessness an unresponsiveness and ignorance in particular towards certain environmental problems As human beings we are a species on this planet that is uniquely capable to think and foresee potential consequences and hold power to induce change on our actions It is up to human beings to confront challenges such as climate change to consider what has been critically assessed in thought and reflect on potential responses Crucial in this dialog is the ability to take the standpoint of the other including that of species as well as ecosystems in human imagination It also means to develop a sensibility for the other in making sense of the world that today is largely shaped by humans Throughout history narratives stories images artistic expressions have all played a key role for imaginative ventures that allow the mind to imagine the past present and the future Language and communication can serve comprehension of an issue like climate change and provide a path in developing responsible responses to abstract problems of complex global future dimensions      African Environmental Crisis Gufu Oba,2020-03-13 This book explores how and why the idea of the African environmental crisis developed and persisted through colonial and post colonial periods and why it has been so influential in development discourse From the beginnings of imperial administration the idea of the desiccation of African environments grew in popularity but this crisis discourse was dominated by the imposition of imperial scientific knowledge neglecting indigenous knowledge and experience African Environmental Crisis provides a synthesis of more than one and a half century s research on peasant agriculture and pastoral rangeland development in terms of soil erosion control animal husbandry grazing schemes large scale agricultural schemes social and administrative science research and vector disease and pest controls Drawing on comparative socio ecological perspectives of African peoples across the East African colonies and post independent states this book refutes the hypothesis that African peoples were responsible for environmental degradation Instead Gufu Oba argues that flawed imperial assumptions and short term research projects generated an inaccurate view of the environment in Africa This book s discussion of the history of science for development provides researchers across environmental studies agronomy African history and development studies with a lens through which to understand the underlying assumptions behind development projects in Africa The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Environmental Education and Advocacy Edward A. Johnson,Michael J. Mappin,2005-03-03 Environmental education has often blurred the distinction between ecological science and environmental advocacy Growing public awareness of environmental problems and desire for action may be contributing to this blurring There is a need to clarify the distinction between the role of ecological science and the role of social and political values for the environment within environmental education This book addresses this need by examining the changing perspectives of ecology in education and the changing perspectives of education in environmental education Guidelines are provided for assessing the science and education perspectives within environmental education along with suggested frameworks for development of programs and resources that integrate current science education and action This book will be of interest to environmental educators ecologists interested in environmental education and curriculum and resource developers
