The Forgotten One:

The Forgotten One John Fitch, 2025-09-13     The Keepsake Frederic Mansel Reynolds, Caroline Sheridan Norton, Marguerite Countess of Blessington, Marguerite A. Power, Lady Emmeline Stuart-Wortley, 1831     The Forgotten People Harry W. Daniels, 1979     Lourdes Émile Zola, 1897     The Forgotten Schools Soli Shahvar, 2009-09-30 By the end of the nineteenth century it became evident to Iran's ruling Qajar elite that the state's contribution to the promotion of modern education in the country was unable to meet the growing expectations set by Iranian society. Muzaffar al-Din Shah sought to remedy this situation by permitting the entry of the private sector into the field of modern education and in 1899 the first Baha'i school was established in Tehran. By the 1930s there were dozens of Baha'i schools. Their high standards of education drew many non-Baha'i students from all sections of society. Here Soli Shahvar assesses these forgotten schools and investigates why they proved so popular not only with Baha'is but Zoroastrians, Jews and especially Muslims. Shahvar explains why they were closed by the reformist Reza Shah in the late 1930s and the subsequent fragility of the Baha'is' position in Iran.

Soothsayer D. J. Conway, 1997 Continuing the story of Dream Warrior Corri Farblood who battles for the Goddess in a time of great unrest. Will Corri's psychic powers be strong enough to save her people and the man she loves from their enemies led by her own father? SOOTHSAYER abounds with magick and intrigue, diabolical plans and well-plotted twists.

The Nation, 1878     The Forgotten Fifties John Murphy, Judith Smart, 1997 Some of Australia's leading historians present new perspectives on social and cultural life in the 1950s. The 1950s is usually treated in the popular media as a metaphor for an Australia that was complacent, monocultural, banal and domesticated. On the other hand, historical writing about the decade has long been dominated by accounts of political and foreign policy conflict: the Labor Split, the Cold War and the seemingly endless long summer of Robert Menzies. This collection assembles some of Australia's leading historians to present new perspectives on the 1950s. Focusing on social and cultural themes, they reveal a decade full of contradictions which belie the common simplistic accounts of the time. Ranging from the education of the young Barry Humphries to the idea of an Australian identity in the lead up to the 1956 Olympics, these essays also include the personal recollections of three leading historians providing a lively and critical insight into the Australia of the period. Drawing out themes such as style, sexuality, modernism, the suburbs, travel, writing and immigrant assimilation, the authors excavate the experience of everyday life and the attitudes that characterised the 1950s. They present a past that, despite having shaped our lives, continues to be disputed in contemporary Australia.
