Terror A Meditation On The Meaning Of September 11:

The Wreck of Western Culture John Carroll, 2004-07-01 Humanism built Western civilisation as we know it today Its achievements include the liberation of the individual democracy universal rights and widespread prosperity and comfort Its ambassadors are the heroes of modern culture Erasmus Holbein Shakespeare Velazquez Descartes Kant and Freud Those who sought to contain humanism's pride within a frame of higher truth Luther Calvin Poussin Kierkegaard could barely interrupt its torrential progress Those who sought to reform humanism's tenets Marx Darwin and Nietzsche were tested by the success of their own prophecies So runs the approved view it is not shared by John Carroll Rather he articulates a disruptive and compelling alternative version of Western civilisation since the Renaissance and the Reformation contrived to unleash Reason Will and a superhuman Man on the world Here Carroll significantly reworks his bracing study of humanism's rise to pre-eminence and its headlong tumble into contradiction This revised look at the failure of the West's 500 year experiment with humanism and its dire cultural consequences concludes with 11 September 2001 Terror John Carroll, 2002 No Marketing Blurb Visions of Invasion Michael Lechuga, 2023-03-02 Visions of Invasion Alien Affects Cinema and Citizenship in Settler Colonies explores how the US government mobilizes media and surveillance technologies to operate a highly networked multidimensional system for controlling migrants Author Michael Lechuga focuses on three arenas where a citizenship control assemblage manufactures alienhood Hollywood extraterrestrial invasion film federal antimigration and border security legislation and various immigration enforcement protocols implemented along the Mexico United States border Building on rhetorical studies settler colonial studies and media studies Visions of Invasion offers a glimpse at how the processes of alien making contribute to an ongoing settler colonial project in the US Lechuga demonstrates that popular films The War of the Worlds Predator Men in Black and more participate in the production of migrants as subjective terrorists felons and other noncitizen personae vilified in public discourse Beyond just tracing how alien invasion narratives circulate in popular media Lechuga describes how the logics motivating early US colonists materialize in both the US's citizenship control policy and in some of the country's most popular texts Beneath each of the film franchises and antimigrant political expressions described in Visions of Invasion lies an anxious colonial logic in which the settler way of life is seemingly threatened by false narratives of imminent invasion from abroad The volume offers a deep dive into how the rhetorical figure of the alien has been manufactured as a political subjectivity one that plays out the anxieties guilts and fears of colonialism in today's science fiction landscape Literature, Migration and the 'War on Terror' Fiona Tolan, Stephen Morton, Anastasia Valassopoulos, Robert Spencer, 2013-09-13 This is a major new collection of essays on literary and cultural representations of migration and terrorism the cultural impact of 9/11 and the subsequent war on terror The collection commences with analyses of the relationship between migration and terrorism which has been the focus of much mainstream political and media debate since the attacks on America in 2001 and the London bombings in 2005 not least because liberal democratic governments in Europe and North America have invoked such attacks to justify the regulation of migration and the criminalisation of minority groups Responding to the consequent erosion of the liberal democratic rights of the individual leading scholars assess the various ways in which literary texts support and or interrogate the conflation of narratives of transnational migration and perceived terrorist threats to national security This crucial debate is furthered by contrasting analyses of the manner in which novelists from the UK North Africa the US and Palestine have represented 9 11 exploring the event s contexts and ramifications This path breaking study complicates the simplistic narratives of revenge and wronged innocence commonly used to make sense of the attacks and to justify the US response Each novel discussed seeks to interrogate and analyse a discourse typically dominated by consent belligerence and paranoia Together the collected essays suggest the value of literature as an effective critical intervention in the very fraught political aftermath of the war on terror This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing
