Bloody Verrieres, Volume 1 Arthur W. Gullachsen, 2021-12-31 An excellent work that adds to the history of the Normandy Campaign It also gives the armchair historian points to ponder A Wargamers Needful Things South of the Norman city of Caen the twin features of the Verrieres and Bourguebus ridges were key stepping stones for the British Second Army in late July 1944 taking them was crucial if it was to be successful in its attempt to break out of the Normandy bridgehead To capture this vital ground Allied forces would have to defeat arguably the strongest German armored formation in Normandy the I SS Panzerkorps Leibstandarte The resulting battles of late July and early August 1944 saw powerful German defensive counterattacks south of Caen inflict tremendous casualties regain lost ground and at times defeat Anglo Canadian operations in detail Viewed by the German leadership as militarily critical the majority of its armored assets were deployed to dominate this excellent tank country east of the Orne river These defeats and the experience of meeting an enemy with near equal resources exposed a flawed Anglo Canadian offensive tactical doctrine that was overly dependent on the supremacy of its artillery forces Furthermore weaknesses in Allied tank technology inhibited their armored forces from fighting a decisive armored battle forcing Anglo Canadian infantry and artillery forces to further rely on First World War Bite and Hold tactics massively supported by artillery Confronted with the full force of the Panzerwaffe Anglo Canadian doctrine at times floundered In response the Royal Artillery and Royal Canadian Artillery units pummeled the German tankers and grenadiers but despite their best efforts ground could not be captured by concentrated artillery fire alone This is a detailed account of the success of I SS Panzerkorps defensive operations aimed at holding the Verrieres Bourguebus ridges in late July 1944

Surviving Hitler's War Hester Vaizey, 2010-09-22 This vivid recreation of family life as experienced in Nazi Germany during and after the Second World War tells the stories of mothers and fathers sons and daughters parents and children in their own words From desperate last letters sent to their loved ones by doomed soldiers at Stalingrad to diaries kept by women trying to keep their families alive as the cities they lived in were devastated by constant bombing raids this book presents a new and often unfamiliar account of family life under the most extreme conditions Far from disintegrating under the strain as many historians have argued this book shows that the German family maintained and even strengthened the emotional bonds that tied its members together Entering the war shaped moulded and directed by the massive pressures brought to bear on it by Nazism's attempt to recast German society in its own image the German family resisted these pressures and emerged at the end of the war in a new and stronger form surviving the manifold problems of reunion and readjustment to the postwar post Nazi world with a surprising degree of resilience

Air Power and the Evacuation of

Dunkirk Harry Raffal, 2021-07-15 The evacuation of Dunkirk has been immortalised in books prints and films narrated as a story of an outnumbered inexperienced RAF defeating the battle hardened Luftwaffe and protecting the evacuation This book revives the historiography by analysing the air operations during the evacuation Raffal draws from German and English sources many for the first time in the context of Operation DYNAMO to argue that both sides suffered a defeat over Dunkirk This work examines the resources and tactics of both sides during DYNAMO and challenges the traditional view that the Luftwaffe held the advantage The success that the Luftwaffe achieved during DYNAMO including halting daylight evacuations on 1 June is evaluated and the supporting role of RAF Bomber and Coastal Command is explored in detail for the first time Concluding that the RAF was not responsible for the Luftwaffe's failure to prevent the evacuation Raffal demonstrates that the reasons lay elsewhere

Germans to Poles Hugo Service, 2013-07-11 At the end of the Second World War mass forced migration and population movement accompanied the collapse of Nazi Germany's occupation and the start of Soviet domination in East Central Europe Hugo Service examines the experience of Poland's new territories exploring the Polish Communist attempt to cleanse these territories in line with a nationalist vision against the legacy of brutal wartime occupations of Central and Eastern Europe by Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union The expulsion of over three million Germans was intertwined with the arrival of millions of Polish settlers Around one million German citizens were categorised as native Poles and urged to adopt a Polish national identity The most visible traces of German culture were erased Jewish Holocaust survivors arrived and for the most part soon left again Drawing on two case studies the book exposes how these events varied by region and locality

The Decisive Duel David Isby, 2012-07-26 London 15 September 1940 The air battle over Britain on that day saw two of the most advanced fighter planes the British Supermarine Spitfire and the German Messerschmitt Bf 109 battle for supremacy of the skies The Decisive Duel tells the stories of these iconic classic aircraft and the people that created them Willy Messerschmitt the German designer with a love for gliders and admiration for Hitler R J Mitchell his brilliant British counterpart who struggled against illness to complete the design of the Spitfire In fascinating detail David Isby describes the crucial role the two opposed planes played from the drawing boards to Dunkirk the Battle of Britain to the final battles over Germany
