Prof Dr Barrie Needham

Land Use Planning:

Dutch Land-use Planning Prof Dr Barrie Needham, 2014-03-28 Dutch planning is widely known and admired for its ambitions and its achievements This book provides for the first time a comprehensive description and analysis in English of its full range of policies and practices It gives an up to date account of the principles written and unwritten behind the planning and in addition shows how the practice sometimes ignores those principles in order to achieve better results It describes the content of the policies the measures taken to realise them and the successes and failures The book is not uncritical of Dutch land use planning but the author values its strengths and believes that planning in other countries could learn from them These strengths arise in the continuing tension between the high ambitions of the Dutch planning and the ingenuity and pragmatism exercised in order to realise those ambitions

Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning Michael Short, Mark Baker, Jeremy Carter, Carys Jones, Stephen Jay, 2013 A wonderfully international and up to date perspective on strategic environmental assessment of land use plans by leading experts in the field Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning covers not only how much such SEAs are carried out and in what context but whether they are effective and why It provides invaluable insights for practitioners and researchers in this rapidly evolving field Riki Therivel author of Strategic Environmental Assessment in Action Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning provides an authoritative international evaluation of the SEA of land use plans The editors place the SEA of land use plans in context and uniquely qualified contributors then evaluate systems in Canada Denmark Germany Hong Kong Hungary Ireland The Netherlands New Zealand Portugal South Africa Sweden the United Kingdom the United States and the World Bank These chapters provide a description of the context in each country a case study of the use of SEA in land use planning and an evaluation of each SEA system against a set of generic criteria specially designed to analyse different aspects of SEA. The contributors critically review each SEA system, SEA process and SEA outcome and conclude by summarizing their findings. The editors draw the various national perspectives together in a final chapter and derive widely applicable conclusions about SEA and land use planning. This book is a core text for all students in environmental assessment, land use planning, environmental science, environmental management, development studies, geography, landscape design and law and engineering. It is also essential reading for all governments and environmental regulators, academics, researchers and environmental and planning consultants worldwide who are involved in SEA research, practice and training.

Land Ownership and Land Use Development Erwin Hepperle, Robert Dixon-Gough, Reinfried Mansberger, Jenny Paulsson, Józef Hernik, Thomas Kalbro, 2017-01-10. Across Europe, land is constantly the subject of enormous and widely varied pressures. The land we have is shrinking in area due to numerous reasons, including those that are directly related to climate change and migration. In fact, all disciplines that have responsibilities for the husbandry, use, management and administration of the land are forced to address the problems of how to plan and how to utilise this increasingly valuable resource. The papers contained within this book emerge from two symposia held in 2014 and 2015 which now have been arranged along four general themes reflecting the multi-disciplinary nature of the disciplines concerned with land. The first part is dedicated to the interpretation of key terms in their context and the dissimilar conceptual approaches in the governance of different states. It is followed by papers that identify the process of decision taking, how to organize and co-operate. One large section addresses the identification of land pattern changes and the reason for it. The papers in the final cluster deal with the general theme of strategies and measures used to steer future evolution in land policies. The publication addresses various needs that have to be balanced: the tasks of living space in the face of societal and demographic changes, infrastructure, supply challenges of an increasingly urbanised region, food production, green energy, natural hazards, habitats and cultural landscapes protection.

This book is a core text for all students in environmental assessment, land use planning, environmental science, environmental management, development studies, geography, landscape design and law and engineering. It is also essential reading for all governments and environmental regulators, academics, researchers and environmental and planning consultants worldwide who are involved in SEA research, practice and training.
