Sutton Hoo:

Sutton Hoo Research Committee Bulletins, 1983-1993 M. O. H. Carver, Martin Carver, 1993 The early medieval ship burial at Sutton Hoo in Suffolk whose discovery in 1938 yielded such rich treasures posed many questions about the history of England in the shadowy period from the 5th to the 11th century This one volume edition of the annual bulletins of the recent archaeological campaign 1983-92 directed by Martin Carver shows how the dig succeeded in establishing a context for those earlier finds extending knowledge of the culture and society of the age People and Places in Northern Europe, 500-1600 Ian N. Wood, Niels Lund, 1991 A collection of essays dealing with the history and archaeology of Northern Europe in the middle ages It looks at Anglo Saxon England at its contacts with Francia and Scandinavia and at the impact of the Norwegians and the Danes on the place names of the British Isles Two papers deal with the history of women as recorded in runestones and as evidenced by law suits of the medieval period The Dating of Beowulf University of Toronto. Centre for Medieval Studies, 1997-01-01 A seminal collection of studies on the date of Beowulf now back in print that overturned previous scholarship and raised much new information The Sutton Hoo Ship-burial: pt. 1-2. Late Roman and Byzantine silver, hanging-bowls, drinking vessels, cauldrons and other containers, textiles, the lyre, pottery bottle and other items Rupert Leo Scott Bruce-Mitford, 1983 The Cult of Kingship in Anglo-Saxon England William A. Chaney, 1970 The Age of Sutton Hoo M. O. H. Carver, 1992 The Age of Sutton Hoo runs from the fifth to the eighth century AD the age which separates the fall of the Roman Empire from the emergence of the nation states that have endured down to the present day This is a dark and difficult age where hard evidence is rare but glittering and richly varied myths king lists placenames sagas settlements runic inscriptions palaces belt buckles post holes middens and graves says the editor are all grist to our mill This volume celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of that most famous burial of the early middle ages the great treasure now in the British Museum unearthed from the centre of a ninety foot long ship buried in the sand beneath a mound on remote Suffolk heathland at Sutton Hoo It also marks the end of the major campaign of excavations carried out there over the past decade which involved the widest possible range of disciplines The scholars whose work is gathered here represent together with Martin Carver's concluding chapter summarising the results of the latest excavations the current state of knowledge about this extraordinary site that it still has secrets to reveal is shown by the last minute discovery of a striking burial of a young noble with his horse and grave goods The Sutton Hoo Ship Burial Angela Care Evans, 1994 The Sutton Hoo Sceptre and the Roots of Celtic Kingship Theory Michael J. Enright, 2006 The Sutton Hoo whetstone sceptre is the most enigmatic and mysterious emblem of kingship of the Early Middle Ages Produced c 600 AD and long held to be Anglo Saxon the author of the present work argued in 1983 that it was actually made by Celtic craftsmen who deployed Celtic iconographic themes in its carving That thesis is now accepted by many scholars but continues to be a matter of debate Here the thesis is re examined with a wealth of evidence never before discussed Enright establishes that the sceptre is undoubtedly a British artefact one that reflects a long history of Celtic king ship theory It is the end of a tradition that begins with the Iron Age Pfalzfeld pillar Because the sceptre s design reflects that of the pillar a comparison of their creator s ideas is possible The results are important and surprising It is safe to say that this book casts a wholly new light on a number of significant topics in the field and that its findings will be of considerable interest to scholars in a variety of areas

Social Identity in Early Medieval Britain William O. Frazer,Andrew Tyrell,2001-01-01 Social identity is a concept of increasing importance in the social sciences Here the concept is applied to the often atheoretical realm of medieval studies Each contributor focuses on a particular topic of early medieval identity ethnicity national identity social location subjectivity personhood political organization kiship the body gender age proximity regionality memory and ideological systems The result is a pioneering vision of medieval social identity and a challenge to some of the received general wisdoms about this period
