Supporting Cast A Study Of Flat And Minor Characters:

The Supporting Cast David Galef, 1993-04-15 For every Hamlet there is a supporting cast for every Mrs Dalloway an entire realm of subordinate portraits Yet if literary criticism cares at all about significant detail emergent patterns and the subtleties in narrative flat and minor characters are crucial to an understanding of the fictional process itself Beginning with E M Forster s landmark study of flat and round characters this book is both a critical and writerly examination of the species Why are certain minor characters so salient in readers minds and why are flat characters often so comic Is a name enough to create a character and if so what is the vanishing point of characterization The walking allegory the narrator the disrupter the doppelgänger how are they used and to what effect The Supporting Cast first explores the theoretical limits of character from structuralist taxonomies to reader response concerns with examples culled from a wide range of literature The author then applies these concepts in chapters of sustained analysis to works of Conrad Forster and Woolf The work also provides comments on flat and minor characters in other media and a full scale character index of Woolf s Jacob s Room Minor

Characters in Icelandic Sagas Ármann Jakobsson, 2026-01-01 This book focuses on minor characters in fiction primarily nameless and unimportant figures found within medieval Icelandic sagas but weaving in examples from Shakespeare Dostoyevsky and the Pet Shop Boys Jakobsson examines minor characters and their role as well as their absence through narratology He also studies the sagas as literature arguing that few elements open up sagas as much as how minor characters function The Characterization of Jesus in the Book of Hebrews Brian Small, 2014-01-30 In The Characterization of Jesus in the Book of Hebrews Brian Small applies the tools of literary and rhetorical criticism to reconstruct the author of Hebrew s portrayal of Jesus character The author of Hebrews uses a variety of literary and rhetorical devices in order to develop his characterization of Jesus The portrait that emerges is that Jesus is a person of exemplary character who exhibits both divine and human character traits Some of the traits reveal Jesus greatness while others reveal his moral excellence Jesus exemplary character plays a prominent role in the author s argument and has profound implications for his audience Jesus character produces many benefits for his followers and his character entails certain obligations from his followers Academic Writing for Geographers James A. Tyner, 2023-08-21 There are many

how to books on writing for academics none of these however relate specifically to the discipline of geography In this book the author identifies the principle modes of academic writing that graduate students and early career faculty will encounter specifically focusing on those forms expected of geographers that is those modes that are reviewed by academic peers This book is readily accessible to senior undergraduate and graduate students and early career faculty who may feel intimidated by the process of writing This volume is not strictly a how to or step by step manual for writing an article or book rather through the use of real concrete examples from published and unpublished works the author demystifies the process of different types of scholarly pieces geographers have to write with the specific needs and challenges of the discipline in mind

Although chapters are thematic based e g stand alone chapters on book reviews articles and books the manuscript is structured around the concept of story telling for it is the author s contention that all writing whether a scientific study or more humanist essay is a form of story telling

Mediation and Love: A Study of the Medieval Go-Between in Key Romance and Near-Eastern Texts Leyla Rouhi,1999-02-23 This study offers a typology of the go between across key texts from antiquity and several medieval literary traditions analyzing the role of the third party in the poetics of love The work provides the indispensable context for the study of the significant transformations undergone by the go between Legal and scientific sources are taken into account alongside Latin French and English literary works and literature of the medieval Islamic period for the critique of differences and intertextual links which inform the conception of the go between The case of the Medieval Spanish go between is given a special attention due to the figure s complex relationship with diverse traditions The range covered in the work provides a comprehensive view of the figure s trajectory and representation in each text

Jeremiah, Zedekiah, and the Fall of Jerusalem Mark Roncace,2005-09-08 Uses both a narratological and historical critical method to read these specific passages of Jeremiah Demonstrates that the story of Jeremiah and Zedekiah is not the typical god prophet bad king story found in much of prophetic literature and the Deuteronomistic History Provides an intertextual reading of the passages which connects Jeremiah to other figures in the Old Testament The book offers a narratological and intertextual reading of Jeremiah 37 1 40 6 a text that features the dynamic interaction between the prophet Jeremiah and King Zedekiah in the context of events surrounding the fall of Jerusalem While there have been many literary studies of biblical texts there has been little such work on the narratives in the book of Jeremiah This fact is surprising since the Jeremianic stories are narrated in a lively and sophisticated manner and contain complex characters and vivid dialogue and action reminiscent of texts in the Primary History which have received much more literary attention Roncace s book begins to uncover the richness of the prophetic narratives in Jeremiah The study focuses on issues of characterization and point of view as well as the text s connections with other passages in the book of Jeremiah and those beyond it particularly the Deuteronomistic History Roncace argues that the text develops complex images of both Zedekiah and Jeremiah It is not a story of the good prophet and the bad king times as chaotic and confusing as the final days of Jerusalem do not call for a black and white story Rather the text invites both sympathy and criticism for Jeremiah and Zedekiah Jeremiah is the embattled prophet of God yet at times he appears deceptive and manipulative more concerned about his own well being than that of the people and his message can be ambiguous and in the end is not fully correct Zedekiah for his part appears receptive to Jeremiah s word and protects the prophet from others who would harm him yet he is too irresolute to take any action to save the city The ambiguity in the portrayals of both figures is further developed by intertextual connections Jeremiah can be compared to Moses the Rabshakeh Daniel Joseph Samuel Nathan and Micaiah while Zedekiah can be compared to the monarchs that correspond to these figures Pharaoh Hezekiah Saul David and Ahab
