

Nigerian Letter or “419” Fraud

Nigerian letter frauds combine the threat of impersonation fraud with a variation of an advance fee scheme in which a letter mailed, or e-mailed, from Nigeria offers the recipient the “opportunity” to share in a percentage of millions of dollars that the author—a self-proclaimed government official—is trying to transfer illegally out of Nigeria. The recipient is encouraged to send information to the author, such as blank letterhead stationery, bank name and account numbers, and other identifying information using a fax number given in the letter or return e-mail address provided in the message. The scheme relies on convincing a willing victim, who has demonstrated a “propensity for larceny” by responding to the invitation, to send money to the author of the letter in Nigeria in several installments of increasing amounts for a variety of reasons.

Payment of taxes, bribes to government officials, and legal fees are often described in great detail with the promise that all expenses will be reimbursed as soon as the funds are spirited out of Nigeria. In actuality, the millions of dollars do not exist, and the victim eventually ends up with nothing but loss. Once the victim stops sending money, the perpetrators have been known to use the personal information and checks that they received to impersonate the victim, draining bank accounts and credit card balances. While such an invitation impresses most law-abiding citizens as a laughable hoax, millions of dollars in losses are caused by these schemes annually. Some victims have been lured to Nigeria, where they have been imprisoned against their will along with losing large sums of money. The Nigerian government is not sympathetic to victims of these schemes, since the victim actually conspires to remove funds from Nigeria in a manner that is contrary to Nigerian law. The schemes themselves violate section 419 of the Nigerian criminal code, hence the label “419 fraud.”

Tips for Avoiding Nigerian Letter or “419” Fraud:

- If you receive a letter or e-mail from Nigeria asking you to send personal or banking information, do not reply in any manner. Send the letter or message to the U.S. Secret Service, your local FBI office, or the U.S. Postal Inspection Service. You can also register a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission's Complaint Assistant.
- If you know someone who is corresponding in one of these schemes, encourage that person to contact the FBI or the U.S. Secret Service as soon as possible.
- Be skeptical of individuals representing themselves as Nigerian or foreign government officials asking for your help in placing large sums of money in overseas bank accounts.
- Do not believe the promise of large sums of money for your cooperation.
- Guard your account information carefully.

419 Scam Charles Tive, 2006-09 The 419 scam is an aspect of transnational financial crime with a modus operandi peculiar to the Nigerian swindler The most recurrent type of transnational 419 scam is the advance fee fraud It is usually introduced in the form of a business contract a transfer of stolen money or money from over invoiced contract the purchase of crude oil from Nigeria at a relatively cheap rate and transfer of money left by a deceased person will scam In all situations the victim is eventually lured into an endless period of advance fee payment The black money scam is almost as popular as the advance fee fraud and is sometimes practiced in continuation of advance fee scam The victim is introduced to a large sum of money that needs to be cleaned by a special liquid solution The victim parts with money upon the supposition that the black money would be cleaned and given to him The con man gets away with the victim's money leaving him with a bunch of worthless papers The 419 Scam business is not restricted to defrauding foreigners There are two groups of con men in Nigeria The local and the International 419ners The local groups specialize in defrauding Nigerians while the more advanced International syndicates fish out victims from Europe America Asia and South Africa The local ones eventually grow to international status after they have made enough money to acquire computers facsimile and telephone lines and
