The New World Order A View From The South:

African International Relations Mark W. DeLancey, 2019-03-13 African International Relations is a thoroughly revised and updated bibliography that contains annotated entries for international books and journal articles in the field of African international relations The African Guardian, 1992 Striving for Peace, Security, and Development of the World Joseph Rotblat, 1993 The momentous events of the past year have changed the political face of the globe the ideological struggle that dominated the world for most of this century is over erstwhile mortal enemies have become friends and partners But old attitudes have survived and modern weapons are in abundance New foci of conflict have emerged military confrontations are taking place the world is still in turmoil The welcome deep cuts in nuclear weapons have still left thousands of warheads in the arsenals and the spread of these weapons to new states would further increase the danger of a nuclear confrontation The release of the pressure pent up under oppressive regimes created a powerful drive for independence often achieved only after bloody wars Many of the new states are economically non viable poverty and famine are frequent adjuncts of independence If military conflicts are to be avoided a comprehensive strategy must be formulated to improve the standards of living in the developing countries and enhance their security A strategy is also needed to protect the environment from the effects of further industrialization and greater use of energy What is needed is a concept of a sustainable equitable and liveable world for all its inhabitants All these problems were analysed by scientists and scholars who met at a Pugwash Conference The arguments used by them and the proposed solutions are presented in this book under six themes World Peace Nuclear Disarmament Issues Arms Control Security in the Asia Pacific Region Development Strategies and World Economic Order Energy and the Environment Ujamaa and Ubuntu Bo Stråth, 2023-12-15 For over a decade the world has experienced an accelerating erosion of a language that took hundreds of years to emerge It is a language ordering time and space with words such as enlightenment reason rationality modernization and the most recent by word globalization However it is a language that has been accompanied by colonialism imperialism racism the exploitation of people and nature an unequal distribution of the world's resources pogroms genocides and world wars There has been a gap between assumptions underlying a visionary ambition and the often brutal practices that have accompanied it Moreover it is a language that expresses European values with the implicit or explicit suggestion that they pertain to the whole world a civilizing mission from a European centre Although the established narrative argued that there was continuous progress it was a conclusion reached through hindsight The idea of progress had to be repeatedly recreated through new visionary projects that attempted to live up to the high ideals their predecessors failed to achieve Against the backdrop of this meta normative point of departure the book argues that a convincing grand narrative has failed to materialize since the discrediting of globalization In the search for a new narrative it argues at a meta normative level for a reformulation of the term global away from its close connection to the globe as an unbounded self propelling market that exists beyond human influence Global should no longer be reduced to auto playing market fiction but instead be connected to the planet Terra the Earth With reference to Latour and Chakrabarty global and planetary mean cohabitation life on earth is seen as an infinite symbiotic system nurtured and protected but also destroyed by human action The book argues that a new conceptualization of the global and the planet requires input from African and Asian language cultures The book explores in depth the history of the two political African key concepts of ujamaa and ubuntu and argues that they are cases showing how work on a new global planetary narrative might look The investigation of the two concepts demonstrate that translations are juxtapositions that point up what is shared and what isn't between concepts in two or more languages The point of comparison is not to develop a uniform global perspective even if that were possible but to develop a global understanding of difference and through that to begin to look for a common ground Translations of political key concepts are the source of a growing understanding of difference U.S. Interests In The New Taiwan Martin L Lasater,2021-11-28 Focusing on a persistent crux of Sino American relations the author shows how an essentially new Taiwan has emerged in terms of political economic diplomatic and security developments He explores the future prospects of the new Taiwan and analyzes its implications for US interests and policy The New World Order Bārīna De,1995 Arts and Social Science Research ,2000

Taiwan Conundrum Martin L Lasater,2019-06-18 The Taiwan issue in Sino American relations remains one of the most complex controversial and even dangerous policy dilemmas facing the United States in the post Cold War period In an era of growing nationalism on mainland China and Taiwan tremendous strain is being placed on relations across the Taiwan Strait As demonstrated by the 1996 Taiwa Global Disorders and the New World Order Sam Momah,1994 Proceedings of the ...
