reference to the notes of his predecessors This volume covers the marginalia from the 1740 4800 diaries Providing the general public and especially those who have neither a command of Dutch nor of Japanese access to a fascinating period of Japanese history in which the Dutch played such a singular role At the same time the serious scholar wil obtain an easy key to the extremely rich holdings of the archive of the Deshima trading factory which covers a shelf length of more than forty meters in the National Archives in the Netherlands but which has been only rarely utilized by historians Japanologists or other scholars In the 1740s the Dutch East India Company VOC was in many ways at the height of its power The second half of the 18th century saw the decline of the Company from being the high and mighty and only trading company which covered from its base in Batavia Jakarta all of Asia with a network that stretched from Basra in Persia to Nagasaki in Japan to becoming a mere shadow of its former self with only a tenous hold on a few possessions in the Indonesian archipelago By the end of the century it had lost its establishments in South Africa India and Ceylon to the British and its flleet was gone However as a trading company it was dead but as a proto colonial producer it was actually doing quite well The basis of the present text are the Deshima Dagregisters their original tables of contents Vol VII 1740 1760 Vol VIII 1760 1780 Vol IX 1780 1790 Vol X 1790 1800 published in the Intercontinenta Series Nos 18 1993 19 1995 20 1996 and 21 1997 by the Institute for the History of European Expansion at Leiden University Scientific Publications of the Japan Netherlands Institute No 21

between United States and Japanese systems of education Schoolland begins by sharing his experiences as a professor at a Japanese university He then explores some of the attitudes on education that are typical of publications that seem to be fueling a race between the economic superpowers He describes some of the changing relevant characteristics of Japanese society and how these shape the education system Turning up the dark side of Japanese education Schoolland elaborates on punishments in the schools and reveals the challenge that has come forth against physical punishment the debate over students rights court battles and models of leadership Finally Schoolland shows the extent of student violence in the schools he dissects the myth of Japan as unified harmonious homogeneous society and reaches into Japanese history to show the roots of group responsibility in Japanese society The Shogun's Daughter Robert Ames Bennet,1910 My first cruise as a midshipman in the navy of the United States began a short month too late for me to share in the honors of the Mexican War In other words I came in at the foot of the service with all the grades above me fresh stocked with comparatively young and vigorous officers As a consequence the rate of promotion was so slow that the Summer of 1851 found me at the age of twenty four still a middie with my lieutenancy ever receding like a will o the wisp into the future Had I chosen a naval career through necessity I might have continued to endure But to the equal though younger heir of one of the largest plantations in South Carolina the pay of even a post captain would have been of small concern It is therefore hardly necessary to add that I had been lured into the service by the hope of winning fame and glory Correspondence Between William II. of Holland and the Shōgun of Japan Daniel Crosby Greene,1907 The Yankees of the East William Eleroy Curtis,1896 Nature,1882 Japanese Art and Design Joe Earle,2009-05 The V A s greatest treasures from the Toshiba Gallery of Japanese Art shine in this newly updated overview of Japanese art from the last four centuries These superb holdings acquired over a period of 150 years started with the international exhibitions of the second half of the nineteenth century and have grown to include exciting contemporary work by leading artists The result is an unrivalled collection of Japan s achievements in art and design with a particular emphasis on ceramics lacquer textiles prints and metalwork The Official Guide-book to Kyoto and the Allied Prefectures M.
