The Culture Of The Cold War American Moment Series:

The Cold War Richard Brownell, 2008-10-24 In today's worlds of drones military strikes and weapons of mass destruction it's difficult to imagine a nonviolent war of constant hostility between world super powers Readers will be intrigued by this conflict known as the Cold War They will learn that it was a geopolitical ideological and economic struggle between two world superpowers the USA and the USSR starting in 1947 and ending in 1991 Discontented America David J. Goldberg, 1999-02-08 In a class by itself Goldberg provides an engaging nicely written narrative and draws upon a variety of secondary and primary sources to create an outstanding historical synthesis Ohio Historian The Films of Charles and Ray Eames Eric Schuldenfrei, 2014-12-05 The Films of Charles and Ray Eames traces the history of the Eameses work examining their evolution away from the design of mass produced goods and toward projects created as educational experiences Closely examining how the Eameses described their work reveals how the films and exhibitions they generated were completely at odds with the earlier objectives exemplified in their furniture designs Shifting away from promoting the consumer culture they turned their attention to the presentation of complex sets of scientific artistic and philosophical ideas During a critical period from the late 1950s to the early 1960s there was a moment of introspective self reflection in the West stemming from the events of the Cold War This moment of uncertainty was crucial for it provided the incentive to question the values and concerns of society as a whole In turn designers began to question their own sense of purpose temporarily expanding the purview of design to a broader field of inquiry In the case of the Eameses they identified an overriding problem related to consumerism and excess in America and sought to resolve the issue by creating a network of communication between universities governments institutions and corporations The solution of promoting greater education experiences as an alternative to consumerism in America required that different sectors of society functioned in unison to address political social economic and educational concerns The Films of Charles and Ray Eames reconsiders how design intersects with humanity culture and the sciences Outside the Gates of Eden Peter Bacon Hales, 2014-04-11 The cultural historian and author of Atomic Spaces offers a comprehensive account of the Baby Boomer years from the atomic age to the virtual age Born under the shadow of the atomic bomb with little security but the cold comfort of duck and cover drills the postwar generations lived through and led some of the most momentous changes in all of American history In this new cultural history Peter Bacon Hales explores those decades through a succession of resonant moments spaces and artifacts of everyday life Finding unexpected connections he traces the intertwined undercurrents of promise and peril From newsreels of the first atomic bomb tests to the invention of a new ideal American life in Levittown from the teen pop music of the Brill Building and the Beach Boys to Bob Dylan's canny transformations from the painful failures of communes to the breathtaking utopian potential of the digital age Hales reveals a nation in transition as a new generation began to make its mark on the world it was inheriting Outside the Gates of Eden is the most comprehensive account yet of the baby boomers their parents and their children as seen through the places they built the music and movies and shows they loved and the battles they fought to define their nation their culture and their place in what remains a fragile and dangerous world American Anti-Communism M. J. Heale,1990-10 In American Anticommunism Heale examines the various forms American reactions to this perceived threat have taken from the attacks on workers in the Haymarket Riot to the widespread witch hunts of Senator Joe McCarthy Mission Manifest Matthew K. Shannon,2024-06-15 In Mission Manifest Matthew Shannon argues that American evangelicals were central to American Iranian relations during the decades leading up to the 1979 revolution These Presbyterian missionaries and other Americans with ideals worked with US government officials nongovernmental organizations and their Iranian counterparts as cultural and political brokers the living sinews of a binational relationship during the Second World War and early Cold War As US global hegemony peaked between the 1940s and the 1960s the religious authority of the Presbyterian Mission merged with the material power of the American state to infuse US foreign relations with the messianic ideals of Christian evangelicalism In Tehran the missions of American evangelicals became manifest in the realms of religion development programs international education and cultural associations Americans who lived in Iran also returned to the United States to inform the growth of the national security state higher education and evangelical culture The literal and figurative missions of American evangelicals in late Pahlavi Iran had consequences for the binational relationship the global evangelical movement and individual Americans and Iranians Mission Manifest offers a history of living breathing people who shared personal professional and political aims in Iran at the height of American global power The Culture of the Cold War Stephen J. Whitfield,1996-05-19 Without the Cold War what s the point of being an American As if in answer to this poignant question from John Updike s Rabbit at Rest Stephen Whitfield examines the impact of the Cold War and its dramatic ending on American culture in an updated version of his highly acclaimed study In a new epilogue to this second edition he extends his analysis from the McCarthyism of the 1950s including its effects on the American and European intelligensia to the civil rights movement of the 1960s and beyond Whitfield treats his subject matter with the eye of a historian reminding the reader that the Cold War is now a thing of the past His treatment underscores the importance of the Cold War to our national identity and forces the reader to ask Where do we go from here The question is especially crucial for the Cold War historian Whitfield argues His new epilogue is partly a guide for new historians to tackle the complexities of Cold War studies Television in Black-and-white America Alan Nadel,2005 La couverture indique Alan Nadel s new book reminds us that most of the images on early TV were decidedly Caucasian and directed at predominantly white audiences Television did not invent whiteness for America but it did reinforce it as the norm particularly during the Cold War years Nadel now shows just how instrumental it was in constructing a narrow conservative and very white vision of America During this era prime time TV was dominated by adult Westerns with heroes like The Rebel s Johnny Yuma reincarnating Southern values and Bonanza s Cartwright family reinforcing the notion of white patriarchy programs that Nadel shows bristled with Cold War messages even as they spoke to the nation's mythology America had become visually reconfigured as a vast Ponderosa crisscrossed by concrete highways designed to carry suburban white drivers beyond the moral challenge of racism racial poverty and increasingly vocal civil rights demands The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1992 Program of the Annual Meeting - American Historical Association American Historical Association, 2006 Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association Books in Print, 1994 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1993 Program of the Annual Meeting American Historical Association. Annual Meeting, American Historical Association, 1989 Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association Native Activism in Cold War America Daniel M. Cobb, 2008 Broadens the scope and meaning of American Indian political activism by focusing on the movement's early and largely neglected struggles revealing how early activists exploited Cold War tensions in ways that brought national attention to their issues

Reinventing Richard Nixon Daniel E. Frick, 2008 Examining Nixon's autobiographies and political memorabilia Frick offers far reaching perceptions not only of the man but of Nixon's version of himself contrasted with those who would interpret him differently He cites reinventions of Nixon from the late 1980s particularly the museum at the Richard Nixon Library and Birthplace to demonstrate the resilience of certain national mythic narratives in the face of liberal critiques And he recounts how celebrants at Nixon's state funeral at which Bob Dole's eulogy depicted a God fearing American hero attempted to bury the sources of our divisions over him rendering in some minds the judgment of redeemed statesman to erase his status as disgraced president With dozens of illustrations Nixon posing with Elvis the National Archives most requested photo Nixonian cultural artifacts classic editorial cartoons no other book collects in one place such varied images of Nixon from so many diverse media These reinforce Frick's probing analysis to help us understand why we disagree about Nixon and why it matters how we resolve our disagreements BOOK JACKET Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ... Catalog of Books, 1996 Program Organization of American Historians, 1989 Local Foods Meet Global Foodways Benjamin Lawrance, Carolyn de la Peña, 2013-09-13 This book explores the intersection of food and foodways from global and local perspectives The collection contributes to interdisciplinary debates about the role and movement of commodities in the historical and contemporary world The expert contributions collectively address a fundamental tension in the emerging scholarly terrain of food studies namely theorizing the relationship between foodstuff production and cuisine patterns They explore a wide variety of topics including curry bread sugar coffee milk pulque Virginia ham fast food obesity and US ethnic restaurants Local Foods Meet Global Foodways considers movements in context and in doing so complicates the notions that food shapes culture as it crosses borders or that culture adapts foods to its neo local or global contexts By analysing the dynamics of contact between mobile foods and or people and the specific cultures of consumption they provoke these case studies reveal the process whereby local foods become global or global foods become local to be a dynamic co creative development jointly facilitated by humans and nature This volume explores a vast expanse of global regions such as North and Central America Europe China East Asia and the Pacific India sub Saharan Africa the Atlantic Ocean and the USSR Russia It includes a foreword by the eminent food scholar Carole Counihan and an afterword by noted theorist of cuisine Rachel Laudan and will be of great interest to students and researchers of history anthropology geography cultural studies and American studies This book is based on a special issue of Food and Foodways Time Briton Hadden, Henry R. Luce, 1955 Bowker's Complete Video Directory, 1998, 1998
