The Crafts in Britain in the 20th Century Tanya Harrod, 1999 Historians educationalists craftsmen and women artists and collectors and readers with an interest in British cultural history will find this handsomely illustrated book poses fresh unexpected questions

Church and Patronage in 20th Century Britain Peter Webster, 2017-11-07 This book is the first full length treatment of Walter Hussey's work as a patron between 1943 and 1978 first for the Anglican parish church of St Matthew in Northampton and then at Chichester Cathedral He was responsible for the most significant sequence of works of art commissioned for the British churches in the twentieth century They included music by Benjamin Britten Leonard Bernstein and William Walton visual art by Henry Moore Graham Sutherland and Marc Chagall and poetry by W H Auden Placing Hussey in theological context and in a period of rapid cultural change it explores the making and reception of the commissions and the longer term influence of his work still felt today As well as contributing to the religious and cultural history of Britain and of Anglo Catholicism and the cathedrals in particular the book will be of interest to all those concerned with the relationship between theology and the arts and to historians of music and the visual arts

British Art and the First World War, 1914-1924 James Fox, 2015-07-30 Overturning decades of scholarly orthodoxies James Fox makes a bold new argument about the First World War's cultural consequences

"Transculturation in British Art, 1770-1930" Julie F. Codell, 2017-07-05 Examining colonial art through the lens of transculturation the essays in this collection assess painting sculpture photography illustration and architecture from 1770 to 1930 to map these art works complex and unresolved meanings illuminated by the concept of transculturation Authors explore works in which transculturation itself was being defined formed negotiated and represented in the British Empire and in countries subject to British influence the Congo Free State Japan Turkey through cross cultural encounters of two kinds works created in the colonies subject over time to colonial and to postcolonial spectators receptions and copies or multiples of works that traveled across space located in several colonies or between a colony and the metropole thus subject to multiple cultural interpretations

"Landscape, Art and Identity in 1950s Britain" Catherine Jolivet, 2017-07-05 During the years following World War II debates about the British landscape fused with questions of national identity as the country reconstructed its sense of self For better or for worse artists statesmen and ordinary citizens saw themselves reflected in the landscape and in turn helped to shape the way that others envisioned the land While landscape art is frequently imagined in terms of painting this book examines the role of landscape in terms of a broader definition of visual culture to include the discussion not only of works of oil on canvas but also prints sculpture photography advertising fashion journalism artists biographies and the multi media stage of the national exhibition Making extensive use of archival materials newspaper reviews radio broadcasts interviews with artists letters and exhibition planning documents Catherine Jolivet explores the intersection of landscape art with a variety of discourses including the role of women in contemporary society the status of immigrant artists in Britain developments in science and
