The Emerald Handbook of Group and Team Communication Research Stephenson J. Beck, Joann Keyton, Marshall Scott Poole, 2021-11-05 This volume considers the current research of group communication scholars provides an overview of major foci in the discipline and points toward possible trajectories for future scholarship It establishes group communication's central role within research on human behaviour and fosters an identity for group communication researchers

Small Group and Team Communication Thomas E. Harris, John Sherblom, 2002 This text employs systems theory as a basic orientation to describe small group communications as open and complex systems presenting several perspectives for understanding group communication within this systems framework Focus is on diversity creativity and teams

New Directions in Group Communication Lawrence R. Frey, 2002 New Directions in Group Communication takes as its mission the setting of the agenda for the study of group communication in the future It does so by presenting work that scholars have not previously explored in the current small group communication literature Part I focuses on new theoretical and conceptual directions both presenting new views and extending current positions Part II examines new research methodologies while Part III looks at antecedent factors affecting group communication Parts IV and V of the text provide insight into both group communication process and practices Part VI covers different group communication contexts including communication patterns in top management teams

Disciplines, Disasters and Emergency Management David A. McEntire, 2007 Disasters such as the 9 11 terrorist attacks the Indian Ocean Tsunami and Hurricane Katrina illustrate the salience and complexity of disasters Both scholars and practitioners therefore agree that we must take a more proactive and holistic approach to emergency management which should logically be derived from a sound understanding of the academic literature and the most pressing concerns facing professionals in the field today Disciplines Disasters and Emergency Management reviews what is known about catastrophic events from the standpoint of various academic areas of study The introdu
