teachers and students an introduction to the craft of teaching Religious Education in the secondary school Teaching the Post-16 Learner Marion Woolhouse, Trevor Jones, Mary Rees, 2001 This text is for those involved in the teaching or training of post 16 learners whether or not they are attending a formal teacher training course It provides advice on how to identify the needs of learners planning delivering and assessing Citizenship education Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee, 2007-03-08 In light of the recommendations of the Crick report on citizenship education Education for citizenship and the teaching of democracy which can be downloaded at http://www.qca.org.uk/downloads/6123_crick_report_1998.pdf published in September 1998 the subject was introduced into the school curriculum in 2002 on a compulsory basis for secondary schools and as part of the non statutory framework for primary schools The Committee's report assesses the progress made during the last four years to deliver quality citizenship programmes and examines the barriers that exist to its successful implementation It finds that when well done citizenship education motivates and inspires young people but the quality and extent of these programmes are still inconsistent across the country This patchiness needs to be tackled head on and progress accelerated requiring strong support from the DfES and Ministers as well as action from those on the ground The Committee welcomes the Government's decision to accept the recommendations of the report by Sir Keith Ajegbo which highlighted the need for citizenship curriculum to have a closer focus on issues of identity diversity and belonging More can be done to disseminate between settings good practice information about approaches that are working in other institutions particularly in relation to whole school or college approaches that develop opportunities for active citizenship although it is essential that programmes are locally owned and relevant to the particular context The development of the workforce is also important to the success of citizenship education and although the expansion of the Continuing Professional Development CPD citizenship certificate programme is welcome more resources are needed to develop capacity in initial teacher training places for citizenship education The best start in life? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Work and Pensions Committee, 2008-03-10 The Government has set itself the challenging target of halving the number of children living in poverty by 2010/11 and eradicating child poverty by 2020 With 2010 fast approaching Ministers are still committed to the targets and the Committee wanted to ascertain whether DWP has the right measures in place to meet its objectives Significant progress has been made but the target remains challenging there are still 2.8 million children living in poverty and the most recent data shows a slight increase in this number The Committee is convinced of the damaging effect of poverty on a child's self esteem and expectations and also its effects in contributing to social exclusion Children growing up in poverty are also more likely to have poorer health and poorer educational outcomes There are groups of children who have a much higher risk of growing up in poverty for example if they or a parent are disabled and there are higher poverty rates amongst Pakistani, Bangladeshi and black children Getting parents into sustainable work should be the focus of the strategy to lift them and their children out of poverty but there are concerns that the Jobseekers Allowance regime is not sufficiently flexible to reflect the complexity of lone parents lives To eradicate child poverty by 2020 the Government needs a long term strategy on benefit income for those who are unable to work If benefits are uprated in line with inflation the gap between the incomes of those in work and those on benefits will only get wider as benefits will not keep pace with earnings As poverty is measured as a percentage of median earnings the implications for the 2020 target in particular are serious

Education and Training After Basic Schooling Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,1985 Various factors including an increase in the standard of living of the population throughout the Western industrialized countries the need for better qualified workers and the necessity of providing alternatives to unemployment for young people have led to increased demands for training courses provided immediately after compulsory schooling Governments and the private sector alike have responded to this demand by developing new education training and work experience programs aimed at youth between the ages of 16 and 19 and by introducing changes in the organization and objectives of upper secondary education including general technical and vocational courses Although the increasing number of new programs for youth is a promising sign the lack of coordination among the different types of services available have created a number of new problems for planners and policymakers employers and the youth themselves Problems exist in the areas of articulation dissemination of information concerning available program options assessment credentials and the transition to employment Included among those areas that demand particular attention by policymakers are the following 1 expansion of opportunities for disadvantaged youth 2 reforms to encourage increased participation of females in nontraditional occupations and in such nontraditional training programs as apprenticeships and 3 resolution of the persisting discontinuities among general technical and vocational education MN
