Doing Postgraduate Research Stephen Potter, 2002-04-23 A good introductory text for prospective PhD students and a useful resource for research trainers who wish to provide an initial overview to a varied audience The Research Training Initiative at Birmingham Institute of Art and Design This invaluable resource will help both full and part time postgraduate students from all subjects to do research better quicker and with as little hassle as possible Doing Postgraduate Research is pioneering a new generation of research training materials It recognises the greater importance formal research training now occupies in research degrees This practical text will enable the student to develop their abilities to draw upon a range of research training materials and to select those that are best suited to their own research training needs The book concentrates on tasks that all postgraduate research projects face and include designing and organising a research project doing a topic review writing skills using computers considering rights and ethics in research the process of the thesis examination and where held the oral examination The book encourages student training by doing and is designed to be used by students while they are doing their own research work The text includes numerous activities for students to apply what they are learning to their own projects Doing Postgraduate Research has been developed from an Open University training pack for research students and is compliant with UK Research Council training requirements It will be invaluable to all students supervisors and all with research training responsibilities

How To Be An Effective Supervisor: Best Practice In Research Student Supervision Eley, Adrian, Murray, Rowena, 2009-05-01 This is a practical guide aimed at supervisors of research students It is written in a lively case study style and is designed to appeal to supervisors who need a quick fix and who have neither the time nor the inclination to read a more detailed in depth book on the subject such as Supervising the Doctorate There is a growing need for such a volume as the QAA postgraduate code of practice in the UK indicates that all new doctoral supervisors must be trained appropriately. This book will be very suitable for such training courses. The authors both come from a medical background so the book is likely to be particularly well received within scientific and medical departments.

International Conference on Cognitive based Information Processing and Applications (CIPA 2021) Bernard J. Jansen, Haibo Liang, Jun Ye, 2021-09-26

Grantfinder: the Complete Guide To Postgraduate Funding - Arts and Humanities Palgrave Macmillan Ltd, 2000-02-05

GrantFinder Subject specific guides to funding extracted from The Grants Register Database. The GrantFinder guides present grants data which relates to one subject in a smaller format but containing the same depth of information as the original Grants Register. The first four subject categories to be available are Science, Medicine, Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences. Anyone involved in the search for funding in further education should own the new GrantFinder guides, the most comprehensive, practical and competitively priced guides to funding available.

The Research Student's Guide to Success Pat Cryer, 2000-10. The first edition of Professor Cryer's book was absolutely outstanding in four main respects. First it is comprehensive in its scope covering everything from applying to undertaking a research degree. Second it is applicable to PhDs across the board. Third the book is exceptionally well written and highly readable. Finally at each stage Pat Cryer has included questions and exercises to enable readers to reflect on their practice, check out whether they are on track and if not discover how they might return themselves to it. Overall Pat Cryer has made a major contribution to the field and produced a quite exceptional book. It ought to be compulsory reading for intending or actual postgraduates and for academic staff teaching research training programmes.

Assessment: a wider understanding of the term research student to embrace all postgraduate students undertaking research whether for traditional PhDs and MPhils or within programmes such as professional doctorates, taught masters, degrees, diplomas and certificates.

Information technology as a day to day tool. There are also two new chapters: one on options for postgraduate study and research and the other on skills development and employment issues. There is a foreword by Professor Sir Martin Harris, Chair of the National UK Review of Postgraduate Education.
