

THE BIG BANG

THE BIG BANG RELEASED HUGE AMOUNTS OF ENERGY

All the mass and energy in our Universe was created in less than a second – in one huge, super-hot explosion. It was so hot that scientists don't even bother writing out all the zeros in the temperature. They write it as 10^{16} degrees Centigrade, meaning 10 multiplied 32 times!

A Big Crunch lies in the future

Some scientists think that billions of years in the future, the Universe will collapse towards and end in a Big Crunch! But it may not be the end, because other scientists believe that even if there is a Big Crunch it will be followed by another Big Bang and a brand-new Universe will be born.

Over billions of years our universe could become filled with the glowing matter that was the Big Bang

It happened a very, very long time ago

Exactly when this Big Bang occurred has been argued about for centuries. Most scientists today agree that the Universe was born between 12 and 16 billion years ago.

MILLIONS OF UNIVERSES MAY BE IN THE MAKING

While it could not happen again in our Universe, it is possible that big bangs could be taking place millions of times over, creating millions of different universes. It's unlikely that many would last as long as ours, though – most would pop like soap bubbles.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED...

HOW POWERFUL THE BIG BANG ACTUALLY WAS?

It was so powerful that the Universe is still expanding!

Over time, the Universe has changed in the billions of years that followed the Big Bang, and scientists are trying to understand it.

AMAZING!

You can still see the light generated by the Big Bang. If you look through a really powerful telescope, you will be able to see light from the other side of the Universe that began its journey just after the Big Bang.
