Of the nations which have contributed to the direct stream of civilization Egypt and Mesopotamia are at present believed to be the oldest The chronological dispute as to the relative antiquity of the two countries is of minor importance for while in Babylonia the historical material is almost entirely inscriptional in Egypt we know the handicrafts the weapons the arts and to a certain extent the religious beliefs of the race up to a period when it was just emerging from the Stone Age In a word Egypt presents the most ancient race whose manner of life is known to man From the beginning of its history that is from about 4500 B C we can trace the development of a religion one of whose most prominent elements was a promise of a life after death It was still a great religion when the Christian doctrine of immortality was enunciated In the early centuries of the Christian era it seemed almost possible that the worship of Osiris and Isis might become the religion of the classical world and the last stand made by civilized paganism against Christianity was in the temple of Isis at Philae in the sixth century after Christ The Platonic Conception of Immortality and Its Connexion with the Theory of Ideas Russel Kerr Gaye,1904 The Conception of Immortality Josiah Royce, Jr.,2016-05-07 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant

The Secrets of Immortality Prof. Dr. Ernst von Schwarz,2023-08-01 In view of progressive research advances in biotechnology and medicine the prospect of living longer increased longevity increased health span and even biologic immortality has become more real than ever before The Secrets of Immortality evaluates humankind's continuous quest for immortality an integral part of human nature With hundreds of millions of dollars being spent on anti aging and immortality research some futurists believe that within a few decades man will be able to live up to 150 years if not more Some believe that the first person to live up to 1000 years old is already alive today While this sounds like a premise from science fiction The Secrets of Immortality describes the current state of biotechnology and medical research data and the possibilities of anti aging and natural or biologic immortality within the near future Prof Dr Ernst von Schwarz wrote The Secrets of Immortality from a theological point of view examining everlasting life from the perspective of different religions with a main emphasis on the Roman Catholic tradition Dr Schwarz is a physician transplant cardiologist and researcher but he is also a
