Lopez, 2002-03-26 Smart Sanctions explores the emerging concept of targeted sanctions and provides a comprehensive framework for new sanctions strategies for the 21st century. Handbook of Defense Economics Todd Sandler, Keith Hartley, 2007-04-12 The second volume of the Handbook of Defense Economics addresses defense needs, practices, threats, and policies in the modern era of globalization. This new era concerns the enhanced cross-border flows of all kinds, e.g., capital and labor flows, revolutionary rhetoric, guerrillas, and terrorists, including the spillovers of benefits and costs associated with public goods and transnational externalities, i.e., uncompensated interdependencies affecting two or more nations. These ever-increasing flows mean that military armaments and armies are less able to keep out security threats. Thus, novel defense and security barriers are needed to protect borders that are porous to terrorists, pollutants, political upheavals, and conflicts. Even increased trade and financial flows imply novel security challenges and defenses. Globalization also underscores the importance of a new set of institutions, e.g., the European Union and global governance networks and agents, e.g., nongovernmental organizations and partnerships. This volume addresses the security challenges in this age of globalization where conflicts involve novel tactics, new technologies, asymmetric warfare, different venues, and frightening weapons. Volume 2 contains topics not covered in volume 1, i.e., civil wars, peacekeeping, economic sanctions, the econometrics of arms races, conversion, peace economics, and the interface of trade, peace, and democracy. Volume 2 also revisits topics from volume 1 where there has been a significant advancement of knowledge, i.e., conflict analysis, terrorism, arms races, arms trade, military manpower, and arms industries. All of the main security concerns of today are analyzed. Chapters are written by the leading contributors in the topic areas. Up-to-date surveys on the pressing defense issues, theoretical, empirical, and policy issues. Coverage of theoretical and empirical studies of terrorism. Contributions by the leading researchers in the field of defense economics.

Rethinking Security Governance Christopher Daase, Cornelius Friesendorf, 2010-05-04 This book explores the unintended consequences of security governance actions and explores how their effects can be limited. Security governance describes new modes of security policy that differ from traditional approaches to national and international security. While traditional security policy used to be the exclusive domain of states and aimed at military defense, security governance is performed by multiple actors and is intended to create a global environment of security for states, social groups, and individuals. By pooling the strength and expertise of states, international organizations, and private actors, security governance is seen to provide more effective and efficient means to cope with today's security risks. Generally, security governance is assumed to be a good thing and the most appropriate way of coping with contemporary security problems. This assumption has led scholars to neglect an important phenomenon: unintended consequences. While unintended consequences do not need to be negative often they are The CIA term blowback for example refers to the phenomenon that a long nurtured group may turn against its sponsor The rise of al Qaeda which had benefited from US Cold War policies is only one example Raising awareness about unwanted and even paradoxical policy outcomes and suggesting ways of avoiding damage or limiting their scale this book will be of much interest to students of security governance risk management international security and IR Christopher Daase is Professor at the Goethe University Frankfurt and head of the research department International Organizations and International Law at the Peace Research Institute Frankfurt PRIF HSFK Cornelius Friesendorf is lecturer at the Goethe University Frankfurt and research fellow at the Peace Research Institute Frankfurt PRIF HSFK

NL ARMS Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2020 Frans Osinga,Tim Sweijds,2020-12-03 This open access volume surveys the state of the field to examine whether a fifth wave of deterrence theory is emerging Bringing together insights from world leading experts from three continents the volume identifies the most pressing strategic challenges frames theoretical concepts and describes new strategies The use and utility of deterrence in today s strategic environment is a topic of paramount concern to scholars strategists and policymakers Ours is a period of considerable strategic turbulence which in recent years has featured a renewed emphasis on nuclear weapons used in defence postures across different theatres a dramatic growth in the scale of military cyber capabilities and the frequency with which these are used and rapid technological progress including the proliferation of long range strike and unmanned systems These military strategic developments occur in a polarized international system where cooperation between leading powers on arms control regimes is breaking down states widely make use of hybrid conflict strategies and the number of internationalized intrastate proxy conflicts has quintupled over the past two decades Contemporary conflict actors exploit a wider gamut of coercive instruments which they apply across a wider range of domains The prevalence of multi domain coercion across but also beyond traditional dimensions of armed conflict raises an important question what does effective deterrence look like in the 21st century Answering that question requires a re appraisal of key theoretical concepts and dominant strategies of Western and non Western actors in order to assess how they hold up in today s world Air Commodore Professor Dr Frans Osinga is the Chair of the War Studies Department of the Netherlands Defence Academy and the Special Chair in War Studies at the University Leiden Dr Tim Sweijds is the Director of Research at The Hague Centre for Strategic Studies and a Research Fellow at the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda

United Nations Financial Sanctions Sachiko Yoshimura,2020-11-29 This book presents insightful perspectives on the invocation implementation and application of UN approved financial sanctions and related issues With contributions from academics diplomats and UN panel experts Yoshimura offers an analysis of how the UN financial sanctions have evolved the different roles of various major international actors in agreeing and deploying them and their success in achieving desired outcomes It also sheds light on a vital role of Japan in the formulation and deployment of financial sanctions as the third largest economy in the world with very limited armed forces and a pacifist constitution Offering valuable consideration into one of the key implements of international law this is an essential guide for scholars and practitioners in Diplomacy and International Relations      An Empire of Indifference Randy Martin,2007-03-14 Analyzes imperial ambitions in the context of the dominance of finance not simply as a form of capital but also as a set of protocols for organizing daily life      Coercion Kelly M. Greenhill,Peter Krause,2018 From the rising significance of non state actors to the increasing influence of regional powers the nature and conduct of international politics has arguably changed dramatically since the height of the Cold War Yet much of the literature on deterrence and compellence continues to draw whether implicitly or explicitly upon assumptions and precepts formulated in and predicated upon politics in a state centric bipolar world Coercion moves beyond these somewhat hidebound premises and examines the critical issue of coercion in the 21st century with a particular focus on new actors strategies and objectives in this very old bargaining game The chapters in this volume examine intra state inter state and transnational coercion and deterrence as well as both military and non military instruments of persuasion thus expanding our understanding of coercion for conflict in the 21st century Scholars have analyzed the causes dynamics and effects of coercion for decades but previous works have principally focused on a single state employing conventional military means to pressure another state to alter its behavior In contrast this volume captures fresh developments both theoretical and policy relevant This chapters in this volume focus on tools terrorism sanctions drones cyber warfare intelligence and forced migration actors insurgents social movements and NGOs and mechanisms trilateral coercion diplomatic and economic isolation foreign imposed regime change coercion of nuclear proliferators and two level games that have become more prominent in recent years but which have yet to be extensively or systematically addressed in either academic or policy literatures      Between a Rock and a Hard Place Daniel Roger Lake,2004      Symposium ,2007      Boston University International Law Journal ,2007      Journal of Economic Literature ,2002      Economic Sanctions, Domestic Political Institutions, and United States Drug Policy David Lektzian,2003      Globalization [2 Volumes] Ashish Vaidya,2006 This work is a comprehensive collection of cutting edge scholarship on the economic international business political legal and environmental ramifications of globalization one of the hottest topics of the day International trade is as old as nations During the last five decades however advances in technology and transportation have changed the scope and method of international trade Disputes rage about the effects of these changes advocates for different positions offer argument but little factual or theoretical analysis Globalization offers all the information readers need to sort out the arguments Written with the highest degree of scholarship intended for college students or working professionals the encyclopedia provides both introductory material to broad economic legal political and environmental theory and in depth analysis of how theory interacts with practice in the framework of global trade A trader in New York can in a matter of seconds execute a billion dollar currency transaction in Hong Kong What does this transaction mean to New Yorkers to residents of Hong Kong and to the rest of the world This book gives readers the tools to answer
