Smiling Charlie:

All New People Zach Braff, 2012-02-22 All New People is a slick lively and contemporary comedy written by award winning screenwriter and well known actor Zach Braff. The dead of winter Long Beach Island New Jersey Charlie has hit rock bottom. Away from the rest of the world this perfect escape is interrupted by a motley parade of misfits who show up and change his plans. A hired beauty, a fireman and an eccentric British real estate agent desperately trying to stay in the country all suddenly find themselves tangled together in a beach house where the mood is anything but sunny. This pithy piece portrays a scenario of attempted suicide with mordant humour where a basis of social alienation leads to unexpected connections. The richly drawn characters are quick witted and narcissistic yet self aware and the dialogue is fluid and witty. All New People is centred around a clever concept which works as a catalyst for both angst fuelled scrutiny and morbid humour. Tinsley's Magazine, 1879 King Charlie's Riders Max Brand, 1993 King of the hobos King Charlie tries to convince young Billy English to become one of his riders but Billy is not so sure he is cut out for the life of a rail riding tramp.

Everyman Brent Hartman, 2025-07-14 What if you just missed the big time I figure Jagger and Springsteen must ponder. What if Elway too. Without world class talent hard work and blessing this would be their story. It's every man's story. A happy teenager racing through the 60s. No stadium tours or bowl games for me but peace and gratitude. Plus spectacular memories. If any stars read this I hope they enjoy what if. If you're not a star you're in this story somewhere.
