

The background of the cover is a dark, textured surface. A central painting depicts a hand holding a paintbrush. The hand is rendered in a realistic style with visible brushstrokes. The fingers are spread, and a face is visible through the opening formed by the fingers. The face has a single eye looking directly at the viewer. The title text is overlaid on the painting.

Teaching The Arts Behind Bars:

Teaching the Arts Behind Bars Rachel Marie-Crane Williams, 2003 America's two million incarcerated men, women, and youth live in a hidden, isolated world filled with depression, anxiety, hostility, and violence. But the nation's soaring prison population has not been forgotten by a dedicated network of visual artists, writers, poets, dancers, musicians, and actors who teach the arts in correctional settings. This anthology compiles the narratives of several accomplished arts in corrections teachers who share their personal experiences, philosophies, and bittersweet anecdotes, as well as practical advice, survival skills, and program evaluation guidelines. Teaching the Arts Behind Bars is an invaluable tool for artists, program administrators, and corrections professionals, and a testament to the power of creative expression in promoting communication, positive social interaction, inner healing, and self-esteem. Teaching the Arts Behind Bars, 2003

Tannenbaum, Spoon Jackson, 2010-04 A two-person memoir that explores education, prison, possibility, and which children our world nurtures and which it shuns. At the book's core are two stories that speak up for human imagination, spirit, and the power of art. A boy with no one to listen becomes a man in prison for life and discovers his mind can be free. A woman enters prison to teach and becomes his first listener. And so begins a twenty-five year friendship between two gifted writers and poets. The result is By Heart, a book that will anger you, give you hope, and break your heart. Gloria Steinem, Judith Tannenbaum, and Spoon Jackson met at San Quentin State Prison in 1985. For over two decades they have conferred, corresponded, and sometimes collaborated, producing very different bodies of work resting on the same understanding that human beings have one foot in darkness, the other in light. In this beautifully crafted exploration, part memoir, part essay, Tannenbaum and Jackson consider art, education, prison, possibility, and which children our world nurtures and which it shuns. At the book's core are two stories that speak for human imagination, spirit, and expression. Judith Tannenbaum is a nationally respected educator speaker and author Among her books are the memoir Disguised as a Poem My Years Teaching Poetry at San Quentin two books for teachers Teeth Wiggly as Earthquakes Writing Poetry in the Primary Grades and with Valerie Chow Bush Jump Write In Creative Writing Exercises for Diverse Communities Grades 6 12 and six poetry collections She currently serves as training coordinator with WritersCorps in San Francisco Born into a family of fifteen boys in Barstow California Spoon Jackson was sentenced to Life Without Possibility of Parole when he was twenty years old Spoon discovered himself as a writer at San Quentin played Pozzo in the prison s 1988 production of Waiting for Godot and has written published and received awards for plays poetry novels fairy tales short stories essays and memoir during the more than thirty years he has been behind bars His poems are collected in Longer Ago Arts in Corrections Grady Hillman,2022-10-25 In Arts in Corrections the author a poet translator and teacher takes readers on a chronological journey through an annotated selection of 24 of his own publications from 1981 to 2014 which recount his experiences teaching consulting and documenting US arts programs in prisons jails and juvenile facilities Anyone interested in corrections and arts in corrections will be drawn in by the poetic sensibility Hillman brings to his writing Readers will gain a historical and personal perspective not only into correctional arts programming in the US over the last 40 years but also the institutional transformations in policy culture populations economics and the criminological mission expansion into other institutional settings like K 12 education Original essays articles monographs and poems are interspersed with recent annotations to deliver not only a top down view of the correctional system but also the author s personal journey of discouragement and hope from work conducted in approximately 200 adult and juvenile facilities in 30 states and six countries This comprehensive book is essential reading for a broad cross section of international readers interested in and involved in the arts in corrections field With two million individuals behind bars in the US at any given time the profile of arts programs in prisons and jails is rising and interest in criminal justice matters more generally is increasing This includes not only arts in corrections professionals policy makers students researchers advocates and academics but professionals in multiple other fields as well as the general public
