Abstract

Multi-detector-row electro-cardiogram (E-CG)-gated cardiac computed tomography (CT) will probably be a major noninvasive imaging option in the near future. Recent developments indicate that this new technology is improving rapidly.

This article presents an overview of the current concepts, perspectives, and technical capabilities in coronary CT angiography (CTA). We have reviewed the recent literature on the different applications of this technology, of particular note are the many studies that have demonstrated the high negative predictive value (NPV) of coronary CTA, when performed under optimal conditions, for significant stenoses in native coronary arteries. This new technology's level of performance allows it to be used to evaluate the presence of calcified plaques, coronary bypass graft patency, and the origin and course of congenital coronary anomalies.

Despite a high-NPV, the robustness of the technology is limited by arrhythmias, the requirement of low heart rates, and calcium-related artifacts. Some improvements are needed in the imaging of coronary stents, especially the smaller stents, and in the detection and characterization of noncalcified plaques. Further studies are needed to more precisely determine the role of CTA in various symptomatic and asymptomatic patient groups.

Clinical testing of 64-slice scanners has recently begun. As the technology improves, so does the spatial and temporal resolution. To date, this is being achieved through the development of systems with an increased number of detectors and shorter gantry rotation time, as well as the development of systems equipped with 2 X-ray tubes and the eventual development of flat-panel technology. Thus further improvement of image quality is expected.

Abrévégé

La tomodensitométrie (TDM) cardiaque à multidétecteurs avec synchronisation électrocardiogramme (E-CG) sera probablement bientôt une importante option d'imagerie non invasive. Les développements récents indiquent que cette nouvelle technologie s'améliore rapidement.

Cet article présente un aperçu des concepts, perspectives, et capacités techniques actuels de la coronarographie (coro-TDM). Nous avons examiné la documentation récente sur les différentes applications de cette technologie, et noté, en particulier, les innombrables études qui ont démontré la valeur prédictive négative (NPV) élevée de la coro-TDM, quand elle est exécutée dans les meilleures conditions, pour des sténoses significatives dans les artères coronaires natives. Le niveau de rendement de cette nouvelle technologie permet de l'utiliser pour évaluer la présence de plaques calcifiées, la perméabilité des greffes de partage coronarien, et l'origine et l'évolution des anomalies coronaires congenitales.

management of patients with cardiovascular disease. The book discusses the various options available, how they work, the benefits and drawbacks of each, and what modalities will best work in conjunction with each other for a specific condition. Featuring contributions from more than 60 international authors and enriched by 225 half tone modality images and 130 full color illustrations, Multimodal Cardiovascular Imaging Principles and Clinical Applications is divided into three sections. Section 1 contains chapters that focus on the use of ten specific clinically available diagnostic modalities and their broad application to clinical cardiology. Modalities discussed include Echocardiography, Phonocardiography, Myocardial Perfusion SPECT and PET, Coronary Angiography, and Cardiac CT. Section 2 includes six chapters that present visions of the future for combining multiple diagnostic modalities. They form the foundation for understanding the pathophysiologic basis of clinical cardiovascular conditions using prototypes, simulations, models, and tutorials. Section 3 considers several cardiovascular conditions and how multimodal imaging can provide diagnostic and therapeutic decision support to optimize the clinical care for each of them. Some chapters in this section also include case reports of how clinicians and scientists are using multimodal imaging modalities to improve their clinical therapeutic decision support. Conditions include Congenital Heart Disease, Ischemic Heart Disease, Acute Myocardial Infarction, Aortic Disease, Atrial Fibrillation,
