Strahl, 2004 The 4 years since publication of the first edition of the Clinical Study Guide for the Oral Boards in Psychiatry have witnessed a tremendous influx of fresh information relevant to the practice of psychiatry The sheer scope of this new material places an even greater burden on today s examinees who are expected to be familiar with both older and newer treatments This unique and proven reference provides exactly what every candidate needs to achieve success on the rigorous American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology ABPN oral examination Incorporating the updated diagnoses reflected in DSM IV TR and presenting pertinent clinical information on the assessment and treatment of the kinds of patients most likely to be encountered during the oral boards in psychiatry this new edition retains its predecessor s easy to use 10 chapter format and breakthrough perspective In both editions the author emphasizes that candidates are being tested not on their proficiency in making a single accurate diagnosis but rather on their ability to formulate a differential diagnosis that is on their reasoning skills and their ability to recognize during even a short patient interview that many diagnoses are possible And knowledge alone is not enough the examinee also must demonstrate insight by showing empathy for the patient and by developing a collegial relationship with the examiners As of 2004 the ABPN requires psychiatrists to pass a recertification examination every 10 years In addition to its utility in preparation for the oral boards this second edition of the Clinical Study Guide for the Oral Boards in Psychiatry represents an excellent review text for clinicians facing the recertification examination This indispensable study guide offers a distinct advantage to the busy professional by bringing together in one compact volume both the knowledge and the insights so essential to success on these crucial examinations Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, DSM-IV-TM. ,1994

Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders American Psychiatric Association, 1996 In collaboration with representatives of American Academy of Family Physicians American Academy of Pediatrics American Board of Family Practice American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists American College of Physicians American Medical Association American Psychiatric Association Association of Departments of Family Medicine Society of General Internal Medicine Society of Teachers of Family Medicine DSM IV R PC International Version is identical in content to the DSM IV R PC except for its use of International Classification of Diseases and Related Health Problems Tenth Revision ICD 10 diagnostic codes in place of the ICD 9 CM codes Primary care physicians are often the first or only medical professionals to see patients with psychiatric and mental disorders Until now they have lacked a diagnostic tool geared to the primary care setting The DSM IV R PC

International Version is the first manual of mental disorders created specifically for use by primary care physicians. Developed as a collaborative effort between psychiatric and primary care organizations, this concise user-friendly manual is a must-have resource for every primary care physician. Unlike other versions of DSM-IV, this manual is compatible with how the physician manages the primary care visit. To aid the primary care physician's diagnosis, DSM-IV-TR PC International Version focuses on common conditions such as anxiety, depression, and substance abuse. It is epidemiologically oriented, with the most common and most important disorders listed first. This unique publication includes conditions that are common in primary care but that are not as well characterized in DSM-IV. Using an algorithmic format, DSM-IV-TR PC International Version assists practitioners in moving from presenting symptoms to diagnosis. Symptoms and features that discriminate among disorders are emphasized. Students and residents will also benefit from this new format, making this text an outstanding curriculum tool for medical education.
