The Concept Of Man In Contemporary China Michigan Studies On China:

The Concept of Man in Contemporary China Donald J. Munro, 1977 Part of a trilogy exploring how ideas about human nature have shaped practices of social control and education over the course of Chinese history this volume explores how the most striking political theories and policies of the contemporary period rest on distinctly Chinese theories of mind Many of these contrast dramatically with long held Western beliefs key among them the insistence on the commingling of rational thought the emotions and motives Focusing on the Maoist period 1940s through 1976 Munro reveals convergences between Confucian and Maoist theories of mind and considers their application in both education and the practice of modern government Donald J. Munro is Professor Emeritus of Philosophy and Chinese University of Michigan His work and career were recently profiled in Xifang Hanxuejia lun Zhongguo Western sinologists on China a review of seven key Western contributors to the study of Chinese culture and history John Dewey, Liang Shuming, and China's Education Reform

Huajun Zhang, 2013-04-19 This book explores the central question of how to cultivate a continued sense of self in the radically changing Chinese society a question that is highly related to the current ongoing educational reform If education cannot respond to the problem of students disconnection from the changing society learning cannot truly happen in school and the reform will fail Zhang suggests a philosophy of education that highlights the cultivation of students unique but inclusive individuality so that students learn how to nurture their own mind in this profoundly changing society rather than becoming empty and lost The discussion of this proposed question is inspired by the thoughts of the American pragmatist John Dewey and Chinese Confucian scholar Liang Shuming It is not the author's intention to have a pure philosophical discussion but rather to refer to their philosophies to help answer the practical question of cultivating individuality in an educational setting during this period of China's modern transition The Concept of Man in Early China Donald J.

Munro, 2001 Hailed at its first release as exceptional among studies of Chinese philosophy a work combining philosophical acumen with sinological competence that raises the study of early Chinese thought to a new level of sophistication The Concept of Man in Early China remains a staple in the study of early Chinese civilization Addressing the very roots of Chinese culture and thought this path breaking work frequently compares concepts from the Confucian and Taoist traditions with those from Western classical philosophy Donald J. Munro clearly identifies key ideas about human nature and links these ideas within the intellectual universe of classical China The Cultural Revolution on Trial Alexander C. Cook, 2016-11-07

The trial of Cultural Revolution leaders including Mao's widow and her Gang of Four was the signal event in China's post Mao transition In its wake Chinese socialism emerged from the rubble of the Cultural Revolution to create the China that we know today This spectacular show trial was a curious example of transitional justice marking a break from the trauma of the past a shift to the present era of reform and a blueprint for building a better future In this groundbreaking reconstruction of the most famous trial in Chinese history Alex Cook shows how the event laid the cornerstone for a new model of socialist justice at the same time a comparison of official political and legal sources with works of popular literature reveals the conflicted cultural dimensions of this justice The result Cook argues saved Chinese socialism as ruling ideology but at the cost of its revolutionary soul Modern China Studies, 1978 Psychology in Contemporary China Laurence Binet Brown, 1981 Psychology in Contemporary China focuses on the advancement of psychology in China and the different areas to which this field is applied The book proceeds by outlining the evolution nature and characteristics of Chinese psychology The text then points out that studies on this discipline is generally difficult because of the lack of publication of resources in English The process of learning this field is often done through visitations with specialists going to China to conduct research and lectures The text investigates the evolution of psychology in China as well as its progress Chinese Propaganda Posters: From Revolution to Modernization Stefan Landsberger, 2020-11-25 Brightly coloured prints portraying model behaviour or a better future have been a ubiquitous element of Chinese political culture from Imperial times until present As economic reform swept the People's Republic in the 1980s visual propaganda ceased to depict the tanned and muscular labourers in a proletarian utopia so typical of preceding decades Instead Western icons of progress and development were employed high speed bullet trains spacecraft high rise buildings gridlocked free ways and projections of general affluence Socialist Realism was phased out by design and mixed media techniques that were influenced by Western advertising This lavishly illustrated study traces the development of the style and content of the Chinese propaganda poster in the decade of reform from its traditional origins to its use as a tool for political and economic purposes The Discourse on Human Nature in Twentieth Century Chinese Literature Dory Poa, 1992 The Saga of Chinese Higher Education from the Tongzhi Restoration to Tiananmen Square Richard A. Hartnett, 1998 This volume examines Chinese higher education during each of the major periods of its development with a special focus on the indigenous factors unique to the Chinese cultural political heritage Managing Human Resources in the People's Republic of China Jacqueline Loo Kay, 1980 Methodological Issues in Chinese Studies Amy Auerbacher Wilson, Sidney L.
