productively complicates menstrual hygiene management MHM a growing social movement to support menstruating girls in the Global South Bobel offers an invested critique of the complicated discourses of MHM including its conceptual and practical links with the Water Sanitation and Hygiene WASH development sector human rights and the girling of development Drawing on analysis of in depth interviews participant observations and the digital materials of NGOs and social businesses Bobel shows how MHM frames problems and solutions to capture attention and direct resources to this highly tabooed topic She asserts that MHM organizations often inadvertently rely upon weak evidence and spectacularized representations to make the claim of a hygienic crisis that authorizes rescue And she argues the largely product based solutions that follow fail to challenge the social construction of the menstrual body as dirty and in need of concealment While cast as fundamental to preserving girls dignity MHM prioritizes technological fixes that teach girls to discipline their developing bodies vis a vis consumer culture a move that actually accommodates more than it resists the core problem of menstrual stigma

Techno-Fixers Sean F. Johnston,2020-03-26 This is the story of a seductive idea Over the past century the potential of new technology to solve social dilemmas has captivated modern culture From apps that encourage physical activity to airport scanners meant to prevent terrorism the concept that clever innovation can improve society is irresistible but faith in such technological fixes is seldom questioned Where did this idea come from what makes it so appealing and how does it endanger our future Techno Fixers traces the source of modern confidence in technology to engineering hubris radical utopian movements science fiction fanzines policy makers soundbites corporate marketing and optimistic consumer culture from the turn of the twentieth century until today Sean Johnston demonstrates that through the promotion of prominent government scientists technocrats entrepreneurs and popular media modern invention became the favourite tool for addressing human problems and society's ills Nonetheless when it comes to assessing the success of cigarette filters as the solution to safe smoking or DDT as the answer for agricultural productivity the evidence is sobering Cautioning that the rhetoric of technological fixes seldom matches reality Johnston examines how employing innovation to bypass traditional methods can foster as many problems as it solves A critical examination of modern faith in technology Techno Fixers evaluates past mistakes present implications and future opportunities for innovating societies Weather Matters Bernard Mergen,2008 A kaleidoscopic book that illuminates our obsession with weather as both physical reality and evocative metaphor focusing on the ways in which it is perceived feared embraced managed and even marketed Naval War College Review,2014 Rewiring the "Nation" Carolyn de la Peña,Siva Vaidyanathan,2007-04-30 This special bound issue of American Quarterly offers a re reading of the narrative of U S technologies as we move beyond celebrations of exceptional tinkerers and a deterministic machine driven sense of progress to a more complex understanding of the opportunities and responsibilities that befall a nation that interweaves its identities labors and creative cultures with its machines The Writers Directory 2008 Michelle Kazensky,2007-06 Features bibliographical biographical and contact information for living authors worldwide who have at least one English publication Entries include name pseudonyms addresses citizenship birth date specialization career information and a bibliography The Environmental Politics of Sacrifice Michael Maniates,John M.
