Technology And English Studies Innovative Professional Paths:

Technology and English Studies James A. Inman, Beth L. Hewett, 2020-07-24 In scholarship about technology and English studies there are a number of first person narratives that suggest what may be termed traditional professional paths. That is they chronicle the positive influence of a particular technology class professor or publication and suggest that it inspired a distinct and rewarding professional path. What is missing is the rest of the story alternate ways that individuals have come to do work in technology and English studies and analysis of what this means for paths others might pursue. Technology and English Studies Innovative Professional Paths meets this need. The volume begins with definitions of its three central terms technology English Studies and professional paths. Chapters are organized in four sections reflecting both a chronological progression and thematic professional development. The Past as the Future, Searching the Academy, Pushing Boundaries and Forging Beyond. As a forerunner in addressing professionalization across the domains that comprise technology and English studies it will prove foundational for many readers with non traditional or otherwise alternate backgrounds who are working out what professional paths might be available to them. Technology and English Studies Innovative Professional Paths is an important professional development resource for professors, instructors and graduate students across the field of English studies including rhetoric and composition, computers and writing, computer assisted language learning, literary and linguistic computing, literary studies, English education, technical communication, linguistics, writing centers, second language education, ESL and creative writing.

Professional Development in Online Teaching and Learning in Technical Communication Beth L. Hewett, Tiffany Bourelle, 2020-05-18 Technical communication instructors need professional development opportunities that will aid them in creating their online courses in developing curricula and in teaching in what may be a new environment. Although instructors can turn to instructional design teams for assistance in using Learning Management System and its functions they specifically need their own first hand immersive learning within their pedagogical training. In other words teachers need to learn in an online context like the environment that their students will use such direct training helps instructors to facilitate student learning in a technologically distributed classroom. Beyond learning technological skills to facilitate a course these teachers need to learn to use the technology effectively to keep students on track and to teach them skills and material. This collection which includes three contributions from 2007 and 10 from 2017 focuses on the types of professional development instructors need to be successful in the online technical communication classroom. Formed as a 10 year retrospective of the field and its advances in online education professional development the book offers instructors theoretical and practical suggestions for creating and teaching successful online courses and managing entire online technical communication programs. This book was originally published as a special issue of Technical Communication Quarterly TCQ.
