Televisuality Style Crisis And Authority In American Television:

Televisuality John Thornton Caldwell,1995 The collision of auteurism and rap couched by primetime producers in the Northern Exposure script was actually rather commonplace by the early 1990s Series and even news broadcasts regularly engineered their narratives around highly coded aesthetic and cultural fragments with a kind of ensemble iconography Televisuality interrogates the nature of such performances as an historical phenomenon an aesthetic and industrial practice and as a socially symbolic act Televisuality John Thornton Caldwell,1994 Televisuality John Thornton Caldwell,1995 Caldwell calls for a desegregation of theory and practice in media scholarship and for an end to the willful blindness of high theory Time, Technology and Narrative Form in Contemporary US Television Drama JP Kelly,2017-10-09 This book examines how television has been transformed over the past twenty years by the introduction of new viewing technologies including DVDs DVRs and streaming services such as Netflix Hulu and Amazon Prime It shows that these platforms have profoundly altered the ways we access and watch television enabling viewers to pause rewind record and archive the once irreversible flow of broadcast TV JP Kelly argues that changes in the technological landscape of television has encouraged the production of narrative forms that both explore and embody new industrial temporalities Focusing on US television but also considering the role of TV within a global marketplace the author identifies three distinct narrative temporalities acceleration 24 Prison Break complexity Lost FlashForward and retrospection Mad Men Through industrial textual analysis of television shows this cross disciplinary study locates these narrative temporalities in their socio cultural contexts and examines connections between production distribution and narrative form in the contemporary television industry

Television Aesthetics and Style Steven Peacock,Jason Jacobs,2013-07-04 Although Film Studies has successfully re turned attention to matters of style and interpretation its sibling discipline has left the territory uncharted until now The question of how television operates on a stylistic level has been critically underexplored despite being fundamental to our viewing experience This significant new work redresses a vital gap in Television Studies by engaging with the stylistic dynamics of TV exploring the aesthetic properties and values of both the medium and particular types of output specific programmes and raising important questions about the way we judge television as both cultural artifact and art form Television Aesthetics and Style provides a unique and vital intervention in the field raising key questions about television s artistic properties and possibilities Through a series of case studies by internationally renowned scholars the collection takes a radical step forward in understanding TV s stylistic achievements Television Directors, Race, and Gender Jonathan J. Cavallero,2024-07-17 This book challenges the predominant framing of US television as a writer s or producer s medium by suggesting that television directors are a vital component of TV artistry Looking beyond a perspective that favors the narrative and economic aspects of television but undervalues the medium s formal elements the book explores how directors use the visual and aural to contribute layers of meaning that add to the thematic development of television texts Starting from the belief that television aesthetics partially reveal the ways in which directors and their collaborators contribute to the overall thematic development of a program the author offers five case studies that map out the ways that directors have contributed to television drama throughout the medium's approximately 80 year history By devoting special attention to the presence and voices of directors from marginalized backgrounds the book creates opportunities to discuss television from perspectives that emphasize issues of diversity equity and inclusion This original and insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of television studies television production and media production critical media studies media authorship gender studies and race and media Encyclopedia of Gender in Media Mary Kosut, 2012-05-18 The Encyclopedia of Gender in Media critically examines the role of the media in enabling facilitating or challenging the social construction of gender in our society

Television and American Culture Jason Mittell, 2010 Television and American Culture An Overview introduces students to the study of television by looking at American television from a cultural perspective The book is written for intermediate undergraduate and beginning graduate students for a range of television studies courses Specifically Mittell discusses television within the following contexts the economics of the television industry television's role within American democracy the formal attributes of a variety of television genres television as a site of gender and racial identity formation television's role in everyday life and the medium's technological and social impacts The topical arrangement and comprehensive scope of the book differs from other television textbooks arguing that we must incorporate a range of economic political aesthetic and sociological perspectives to fully comprehend the medium of television New Media, Old Media Wendy Hui Kyong Chun, Thomas Keenan, 2006 In this history of new media technologies leading media and cultural theorists examine new media against the background of traditional media such as film photography and print in order to evaluate the multiple claims made about the benefits and freedom of digital media Environment & Planning, 2002

Media Coverage of South Central Los Angeles Grace Jackson-Brown, 2004 Museum of Broadcast Communications Encyclopedia of Television, 1997 The Rhetorical Act Karlyn Kohrs Campbell, 1996 Designed to improve students performance and their ability to act as sophisticated consumers of rhetoric this highly regarded text treats the rhetorical action as the joint creation of rhetor and audience emphasizing the audiences active participatory role The Television Genre Book Toby Miller, John Tulloch, Glen Creeber, 2001 No Marketing Blurb Media Audiences Marie Gillespie, 2005 Visit the Understanding Media series microsite SThis book provides a comprehensive up to date overview of research and debate about media audiences written by some of the leading scholars in the field It covers a wide range of media genres from TV news to soaps and reality shows as well as addressing broader issues for example to do with globalisation the social contexts of media use and the power of the media This is a state of the art textbook which provides students with the critical tools they need in order to evaluate existing research and to undertake their own David Buckingham Institute of Education London SThe book is important for the broad understanding of media audiences it provides and for the richness of the learning experience available through the activities and reading extracts that guide the student experience It is an excellent introduction to the history and traditions of audience research Virginia Nightingale University of Western Syney AustraliaThis book offers an engaging and accessible introduction to key debates in audience studies drawing on a range of historical contemporary and cross cultural case studies The book includes chapters on different approaches to researching audiences and how they link to policy and political agendas how media technologies shape our sensory and social experience how the media address us as media publics and affect democratic processes what ethnographic approaches tell us about audiences in different parts of the world how new forms of interactivity and mobility shift the relations of power between media consumers and producers The authors take students through these and other topics using readings from key research and providing carefully designed student activities Case studies range from the sensational experiences of early twentieth century film audiences to the activities of reality TV viewers from the audiences for Indian religious epics to Israeli news viewers interpretations of news about Palestine
