The Deception Trap:

The Deception Trap Ann Charlton,1989      Power Plays John O. Whitney,Tina Packer,2002-05-30 The issues fueling the intricate plots of Shakespeare's four hundred year old plays are the same common yet complex issues that business leaders contend with today. And as John Whitney and Tina Packer so convincingly demonstrate no one but the Bard himself can penetrate the secrets of leadership with such piercing brilliance. Let him instruct you on the issues that managers face every day. Power Richard II's fall from power can enlighten us. Trust Draw on the experiences of King Lear and Othello. Decision Hamlet illustrates the dos and don'ts of decision making. Action See why Henry IV was effective and Henry VI was not. Whitney and Packer do not simply compare Shakespeare's plays with management techniques instead they draw on their own wealth of business experience to show us how these essential Shakespearean lessons can be applied to modern day challenges. Power Plays infuses the world of business with new life and plenty of drama

Why Greatness Cannot Be Planned Kenneth O. Stanley,Joel Lehman,2015-05-05 Why does modern life revolve around objectives? From how science is funded to improving how children are educated and nearly everything in between our society has become obsessed with a seductive illusion that greatness results from doggedly measuring improvement in the relentless pursuit of an ambitious goal. In Why Greatness Cannot Be Planned Stanley and Lehman begin with a surprising scientific discovery in artificial intelligence that leads ultimately to the conclusion that the objective obsession has gone too far. They make the case that great achievement can't be bottled up into mechanical metrics that innovation is not driven by narrowly focused heroic effort and that we would be wiser and the outcomes better if instead we whole heartedly embraced serendipitous discovery and playful creativity. Controversial at its heart yet refreshingly provocative this book challenges readers to consider life without a destination and discovery without a compass
