The Failure Of Modern Architecture:

The Failure of Modern Architecture Brent C. Brolin, 1976      The Failure of Modern Architecture Margaret Laing, 1976

New Architecture and Technology Gyula Sebestyen, Christopher Pollington, 2007-06-07 Many books have covered the topics of architecture materials and technology New Architecture and Technology is the first to explore the interrelation between these three subjects It illustrates the impact of modern technology and materials on architecture The book explores the technical progress of building showing how developments both past and present are influenced by design methods It provides a survey of contemporary architecture as affected by construction technology It also explores aspects of building technology within the context of general industrial social and economic developments The reader will acquire a vocabulary covering the entire range of structure types and learn a new approach to understanding the development of design      The Architecture of Failure Douglas Murphy, 2012-02-24 Against those who consider architecture to be a wholly optimistic activity this book shows how the history of modern architecture is inextricably tied to ideas of failure and ruin By means of an original reading of the earliest origins of modernism the Architecture of Failure exposes the ways in which failure has been suppressed ignored and denied in the way we design our cities It examines the 19th century fantasy architecture of the iron and glass exhibition palaces strange unprecedented dream like structures almost all now lost existing only as melancholy archive fragments it traces the cultural legacy of these buildings through the heroics of the early 20th century post war radicals and recent developments discussing related themes in art literature politics and philosophy Critiquing the capitalist symbolism of the self styled contemporary avant garde the book outlines a new history of contemporary architecture and attempts to recover a radical approach to understanding what we build Douglas Murphy blogs at <http://www.youyouidiot.blogspot.com>      Conservation of Modern Architecture Susan Macdonald, Kyle C. Normandin, Bob Kindred, 2015-12-08 The importance of protecting significant buildings from decay and destruction would seem to be undeniable Yet whilst the majority of buildings of merit constructed before the Second World War have been highlighted as worthy of protection there is much indifference and in some cases hostility towards many important post war buildings These deserve to receive wider formal recognition but in many cases continue to be mistreated or even demolished This book examines many of the philosophical and practical issues surrounding the conservation of modern buildings and also the problems faced by building practitioners in dealing with buildings constructed in a wider range of styles and materials than at any other time Climate change in particular has forced change in the way in which we think about buildings with the pressures to address issues of energy efficiency becoming more urgent and likely to have consequences that may alter the perceived architectural and historic interest of modern and traditional buildings alike      The Globalisation of Modern Architecture Robert Adam, 2012-04-25 Taking the break up of the Soviet Union and the entry of Russia China and India into the global market as the start of a new era of globalisation Robert Adam compares new developments in architecture and urban design with major shifts in the balance of power since 1990 Based on the principle that design unavoidably follows social change politics and economics this analysis casts a new light on recent architecture Starting with the lead up to events in the 1990s links are established between the global dominance of the North Atlantic economies architectural style and a dramatic increase in international architectural practice The widely observed homogeneity of the global consumer economy is examined in relation to branding tourism and international competition between cities and parallels are drawn with universal architectural and urban types iconic architecture and the rise of the star architect Contrasting pressures to maintain differences are identified in the break up of nation states identity politics targeted marketing and environmentalism and these are related to attempts to reinforce local identity through architecture and urban design Using social political and economic change as a guide to new directions in architecture and urban design the book ends by tracing the changes in global power revealed by the 2008 Western financial crash and its immediate impact on the built environment By comparing past patterns of cultural influence the book speculates on how architecture and urban design may come to reflect wider global trends

The Historiography of Modern Architecture Panayotis Tournikiotis, 2001-02-27 The history of modern architecture as constructed by historians and key texts Writing according to Panayotis Tournikiotis has always exerted a powerful influence on architecture Indeed the study of modern architecture cannot be separated from a fascination with the texts that have tried to explain the idea of a new architecture in a new society During the last forty years the question of the relationship of architecture to its history of buildings to books has been one of the most important themes in debates about the course of modern architecture Tournikiotis argues that the history of modern architecture tends to be written from the present projecting back onto the past our current concerns so that the beginning of the story really functions as a representation of its end In this book the buildings are the quotations while the texts are the structure Tournikiotis focuses on a group of books by major historians of the twentieth century Nikolaus Pevsner Emil Kaufmann Sigfried Giedion Bruno Zevi Leonardo Benevolo Henry Russell Hitchcock Reyner Banham Peter Collins and Manfredo Tafuri In examining these writers thoughts he draws on concepts from critical theory relating architecture to broader historical models

Modern Architectural Theory Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2009-07-13 Modern Architectural Theory is the first book to provide a comprehensive survey of architectural theory primarily in Europe and the United States during three centuries of development In this synthetic overview Harry Mallgrave examines architectural discourse within its social and political context He explores the philosophical and conceptual evolution of its ideas discusses the relation of theory to the practice of building and most importantly considers the words of the architects themselves as they contentiously shaped Western architecture He also examines the compelling currents of French rationalist and British empiricist thought radical reformation of the theory during the Enlightenment the intellectual ambitions and historicist debates of the nineteenth century and the distinctive varieties of modern theory in the twentieth century up to the profound social upheaval of the 1960s Modern Architectural Theory challenges many assumptions about architectural modernism and uncovers many new dimensions of the debates about modernism

Mannerism, Post Modernism and the Failure of Modern Architecture in a Pluralist Society Terry Brown, 1979

A Concise History of Modern Architecture in India Jon T. Lang, 2002

In Lucid Language That Speaks To Laymen And Architects Alike This Book Provides A History Of Twentieth Century Architecture In India It Examines In Detail The Early Influences On Indian Architecture Both Of Movements Like The Bauhaus As Well As Prominent Individuals Like Habib Rehman Jawaharlal Nehru Frank Lloyd Wright And Le Corbusier

The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture Juliana Maxim, 2018-12-07

The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture is the first systematic architectural history of Romania under socialism written in English It examines the mechanisms through which modern architecture was invested with political meaning and in reverse how specific architectural solutions came to define the socialist experience Each of the book s three parts traces the historical development of one key aspect of Romania s architectural culture between the years 1949 1964 the planning and construction of housing districts in Bucharest the role of typification of design and standardization of construction in a project of cultural transformation the production and management of a folk architectural tradition Going beyond buildings and architects to consider the use of photography painting and novels as well as narrations of history and the formation of an ethnographic architectural heritage the author explores how buildings came to participate in the cultural imagination of socialism and became in fact a privileged medium of socialism Part of the growing interest in the significance of Soviet Bloc architecture this is an important contribution to the fields of architectural history cultural history and visual culture
