Streets In Their Own Ink Poems:

City of the Big Shoulders Ryan G. Van Cleave, 2012-04 Chicago has served as touchstone and muse to generations of writers and artists defined by their relationship to the city's history, lore, inhabitants, landmarks, joys and sorrows, pride and shame. The poetic conversations inspired by Chicago have long been a vital part of America's literary landscape, from Carl Sandburg and Gwendolyn Brooks to experimental writers and today's slam poets. The one hundred contributors to this vibrant collection take their materials and their inspirations from the city itself in a way that continues this energetic dialogue. The cultural, ethnic, and aesthetic diversity in this gathering of poems springs from a variety of viewpoints, styles, and voices as multifaceted and energetic as the city itself. Cristin O'Keefe Aptowicz: I want to eat in a city smart enough to know that if you are going to have that heart attack, you might as well have the pleasure of knowing you've really earned it. Renny Golden: In the heat of May 1937, my grandfather sits in the spring grass of an industrial park with hundreds of striking steelworkers. Joey Nicoletti: The wind pulls a muscle as fans yell the vine off the outfield wall, mustard-stained shirts, hot dog smiles, and all. The combined energies of these poems reveal the mystery and beauty that is Second City, the City by the Lake, New Gotham, Paris on the Prairie, the Windy City, the Heart of America, and Sandburg's iconic City of the Big Shoulders.

Keystone Poetry Marjorie Maddox, Jerry Wemple, 2025-05-20 From Philadelphia to Erie and from the shale fields to the coal mines, Keystone Poetry celebrates the varied landscapes and voices of Pennsylvania. This collection brings together the work of 182 poets who, with keen eyes and powerful language, commemorate the hometown's history, traditions, and culture of the Commonwealth. Organized geographically, the poems traverse county lines, ancestral lineages, and thematic concerns, as well as gender, racial, and socioeconomic barriers. The poems in this collection seek to bring the reader close to home while fostering the discovery of new places and a deeper understanding of all those who live in the Keystone State. Keystone Poetry also includes resources for teachers. Drawing from this collection of place-based literature, high school and college educators can use students' hometown experiences to make disciplines such as literature, composition, creative writing, history, geography, sociology, political science, and psychology more engaging and accessible. To delve more deeply into class discussion, see Let's Talk About It, a helpful aid for individual or group reflection. To fuel creativity, access Let's Write About It, a practical guide to inspire writers of all levels.

Streets in Their Own Ink Stuart Dybek, 2014-05-20 In a city like that, one might sail through life led by a runaway hat. The young scattered in whatever directions their wild hair pointed and gusting into one another, they fell in love from Windy City. In his second book of poems, Stuart Dybek finds extraordinary vitality in the same vibrant imagery that animates his celebrated works of fiction. A brilliant and deft enactment of place, these poems map the internal geographies of characters who inhabit severe and often savage city streets, finding there a tension that transfigures past and present, memory and fantasy, sin and sanctity, nostalgia and the need to forget. Full of music and ecstasy, the poems of Streets in Their Own Ink consecrate a shadowed alternate city of dreams and retrospection that parallels a modern city of hard realities Throughout one finds poetry enlivened by Dybek s signature talent for translating extreme and fantastic events into a fabulous dailiness as though the extraordinary were everywhere around us if only someone would tell us where to look Geoffrey Wolff     The masterpiece library.
