Stone Time Southern Utah A Portrait A Meditation:

The Cincinnati Arch John Tallmadge, 2004 What wilderness lover asks John Tallmadge would ever dream of settling deep in the Rust Belt astride polluted rivers The Cincinnati Arch holds the provocative answer to Tallmadge's question which was prompted by his unplanned relocation from rural Minnesota to urban Ohio Tallmadge tells of dismaying early encounters with the city's seeming barrenness his growing awareness of its vitality and abundance and finally his new vision of all nature from the vacant lots of his neighborhood to our great New England forests and Western deserts New to the city Tallmadge saw only its concrete glass smog and debris Soon his interest stirred by the wonder of his children at their surroundings focused Tallmadge to the buzzing flapping scurrying chewing photosynthesizing life forms around him More deeply Tallmadge began to learn from and not just about the city Nature's persistence within him and wherever he looked wore away at old notions of wilderness that made no allowances for human culture The arch of the book's title is richly resonant as the name of a geologic formation molding the urban landscape Tallmadge comes to love as an archetypal building form and in its parabolic shape as a metaphor for life's journey Filled with luminous lessons of mindfulness attentiveness and other spiritual practices this is a hopeful guide to finding nature and balance in unlikely places

The Books of the Grand Canyon, the Colorado River, the Green River & the Colorado Plateau Mike S. Ford, 2003 A Bibliography covering one half century of Southwest literature a sequel to Farquhar's The Books of the Colorado River the Grand Canyon Glen Canyon Dammed Jared Farmer, 1999 Focusing on the saddening maddening example of Glen Canyon Jared Farmer traces the history of exploration and development in the Four Corners region discusses the role of tourism in changing the face of the West and shows how the invention of Lake Powell has served multiple needs He also seeks to identify the point at which change becomes loss How do people deal with losing places they love How are we to remember or restore lost places

BOOK JACKET Getting Over the Color Green Scott Slovic, 2001 Desert vistas are often deemed vacant inhospitable wastelands Don't suggest that to Joy Harjo Pat Mora or other contemporary southwestern writers In these arid stretches often devoid of green today's southwestern writers see pyrotechnic colors and Gothic shapes that excite and often overwhelm the imagination And they capture this excitement in words that fix these desert images in the minds of readers who may too often look at the world through green colored glasses This anthology of contemporary nature writing from the Greater Southwest brings together a host of writers including peers of Edward Abbey such as Charles Bowden and Ann Zwinger and representatives of a new generation of writers such as Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams The book is an eclectic blend of nonfiction and fiction field notes and poetry through which artists of diverse backgrounds both celebrate and illuminate the unique vitality and complexity of southwestern literature proving that green is only one of many colors on their palette The selections included here range all across the southwestern landscape and explore adventures in the wild topics in natural history living close to the land and efforts at conservation and restoration They clearly demonstrate that there is grace and beauty in this often maligned part of the world both in the human traditions that have developed in the region and in the natural features of the desert itself Encyclopedia of Religion and Nature Bron Taylor, Jeffrey Kaplan, 2005-01-01 No Marketing Blurb Wilderness ,1994 The Good in Nature and Humanity Stephen R. Kellert, Timothy Farnham, 2013-04-10 Scientists theologians and the spiritually inclined as well as all those concerned with humanity s increasingly widespread environmental impact are beginning to recognize that our ongoing abuse of the earth diminishes our moral as well as our material condition Many people are coming to believe that strengthening the bonds among spirituality science and the natural world offers an important key to addressing the pervasive environmental problems we face The Good in Nature and Humanity brings together 20 leading thinkers and writers including Ursula Goodenough Lynn Margulis Dorion Sagan Carl Safina David Petersen Wendell Berry Terry Tempest Williams and Barry Lopez to examine the divide between faith and reason and to seek a means for developing an environmental ethic that will help us confront two of our most imperiling crises global environmental destruction and an impoverished spirituality The book explores the ways in which science spirit and religion can guide the experience and understanding of our ongoing relationship with the natural world and examines how the integration of science and spirituality can equip us to make wiser choices in using and managing the natural environment The book also provides compelling stories that offer a narrative understanding of the relations among science spirit and nature Grounded in the premise that neither science nor religion can by itself resolve the prevailing malaise of environmental and moral decline contributors seek viable approaches to averting environmental catastrophe and more positively to achieving a more harmonious relationship with the natural world By bridging the gap between the rational and the religious through the concern of each for understanding the human relation to creation The Good in Nature and Humanity offers an important means for pursuing the quest for a more secure and meaningful world Stone Time, Southern Utah Tom H. Watkins, 1994 Renowned wilderness writer T H Watkins offers a portrait of remote areas of the fragile and beautiful canyonlands of Utah He gives us a panorama of majestic mountains buttes and mesas forest views of pinon an djuniper and tall mountains sage and intimate glimpses of rivers weaving through red slits in the earth Through Watkins s exquisite visual and literary images shines his deep commitment to saving treasured wildlands that were old when humankind was yet ungraced by the breath of creation Journal of the West Lorrin L. Morrison, Carroll Spear Morrison, 2002 The Geography of Hope Wallace Stegner, 1996 Through his work for the Sierra Club and the Wilderness Society and his service as special assistant to the Secretary of the interior Stegner contributed substantially to the emergence and development of the environmental movement The Wild Ones John D. Taylor, 2002 Limited edition book printed on acid free paper signed by both the author and illustrator Dust jacket color insert A comprehensive fresh well written and beautifully illustrated look at the natural history of and experiences associated with one of North America s most popular game birds Change in the American West Stephen Tchudi, 1996 An intriguing look at the human dimension of change focusing on individual elements and events that have created The West Co published with the Nevada Humanities Committee Halcyon Imprint Book Talk ,1994 Issues in Science and Technology ,1994 Twentieth-century American Nature Writers Roger Thompson,J.
