Test Flights Poems:

Test Flights Kerry Paul May, 1995 May's poems address a variety of subjects from his father's alcoholism to his own encounters with Americans abroad to his period of mourning after his father's death. Reflective but never nostalgic they probe America for answers. What explains our obsessively violent society? What release from our painful history can we hope to negotiate?

Flight: New and Selected Poems Linda Bierds, 2008-10-02 From this critically acclaimed and award-winning poet a stunning volume of new and selected works that display her signature intelligence, depth, and vigorous originality. Hailed as visionary by The New Yorker and radiant by The New York Times Book Review, Linda Bierds returns with a collection that gives us the best of her astonishing work and then gives us more: the gift of fifteen new poems. As a poet she has always shied away from the easy indulgences of confessional poetry, turning her attention instead to the things that unite us in our common humanity: art, science, music, history, and bringing alive people, some famous, some little known, who have made contributions to these spheres. The new poems are no less vital, transporting the reader from medieval to modern day Venice to the moon, from anatomical sketches to primitive mapping and early naturalism, returning always to the empathy that guides her work. These tightly woven poems are linked organically through repeating imagery, reflected and refracted through the prism of Bierds's singularly rich imagination. Her language itself communicates just as much as this visuality as Stanley Plumly has said: "The autobiography of her imagination would only be half as intense were the writing itself less beautiful and clear, less perfect to pitch." The Magazine of Poetry and Literary Review, Charles Wells Moulton, 1890

The Magazine of Poetry and Literary Review, 1892

Flight and Earlier Poems Vona Groarke, 2004 In Flight and Earlier Poems the cultural creation and romantic myths surrounding such themes as home, family, and landscape are set against the harsh realities of Ireland's history. They are also burdened by the specific gravity of individual lives. Vona Groarke's treatment of Ireland's past and present, the barrenness of certain parts of the country, and the flight from the emptiness of obscure counties is subtle and evocative, a contentious space of philosophical as well as lyrical resonance. If the once desolate lands and deserted villages of the Irish countryside have sometimes surrendered to a rural idyll, the envy of post-industrial Europe, Groarke examines those places which have not been visited by such a retreat into the pastoral or else have been transformed in the process.
